Rabinovitz Takes Oath After Johnson Names Him Judge

Interim Appointment Puts Him On Bench; Senate Action Later

WASHINGTON (AP)—David Rabinovitz, a well-known labor attorney from Sheboygan, Wis., whose nomination to a federal judgeship by the late President Kennedy was blocked, was given an interim appointment today by President Johnson.

Rabinovitz received the recess appointment and was sworn in by telephone shortly before the U. S. Senate convened. He will be permitted to serve as U. S. District Judge for Wisconsin's western district until the Senate acts on President Johnson's nomination.

Takes Oath At Once
Presidential aide Walter Jenkins telephoned Rabinovitz shortly before noon, Washington time. Reached while arguing a case before Miss Emily Dodge, an examiner for the State Industrial Commission, in Sheboygan, Rabinovitz was administered the oath immediately.

Miss Dodge, a notary public, then heard Rabinovitz repeat the oath as the race with the clock was beaten. Rabinovitz had to be sworn in before the Senate convened at noon, 11 a. m., Wisconsin time.

"All I can say is there is much work to be done," Rabinovitz said. "I will go to Madison and start immediately. I will do my best to facilitate and expedite the calendar."

Center of Controversy
Rabinovitz, a Democratic national committeeman, originally was nominated by President Kennedy to fill the U. S. District Court vacancy caused by the death of Judge Patrick T. Stone of Wausau last January.

The nomination touched off a controversy. The Wisconsin State Bar conducted a poll of members and a majority who responded held that Rabinovitz was not qualified for the post. Hearings later were held in Washington, but action was deferred and the Kennedy nomination died when the Senate recessed Dec. 24.

At one of his last news conferences, Kennedy said in response to a question about Rabinovitz and the stalled nomination: "I'm for Dave all the way." Rabinovitz was an early supporter of Kennedy in the 1960 Wisconsin presidential primary campaign.

Gov. John W. Reynolds also was an ardent backer of Rabinovitz and sharply criticized the State Bar poll. Only last Saturday, Reynolds went to Minneapolis, to confer with a Johnson aide and urged that Rabinovitz' nomination be resubmitted to the Senate.

Reynolds called the State Bar poll "unconscionable." He said most of the lawyers who voted in the poll did not know Rabinovitz.

President Johnson also made three other last minute recess appointments to the federal bench.

Asked by newsmen if it were not unusual for such recess appointments to be announced barely in advance of the convening of a new session of Congress, White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said: "I don't regard it as unusual."

2 New London Youths Found Dead in Auto

Boy and Girl Were Victims of Deadly Carbon Monoxide

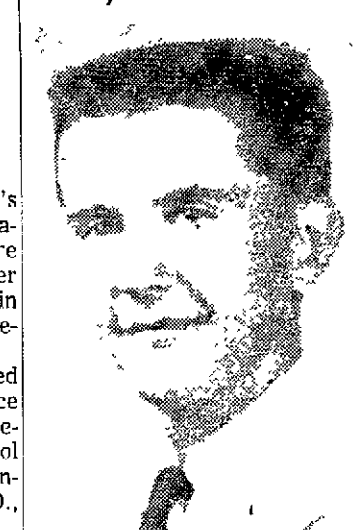

NEW LONDON — The bodies of two New London teen-agers, dead of carbon monoxide poisoning, were found in a parked car near here shortly after noon Monday.

Victims of the lethal exhaust fumes were Nancy Ruckdashel, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruckdashel, 1303 Oshkosh St., and David L. Reader, 19, son of Raymond Reader, 112 E. Cameron St.

The car Reader had been driving was found parked on a gravel road linking Floral Hill Cemetery and a large gravel pit just south of here.

George Currie, who succeeded Timothy Brown as chief justice in the Supreme Court ceremonies Monday, taught school and served as principal in Manawa, Wis., and Hazelton, N.D., before studying law.

Currie, 63, a native of Princeton in Green Lake County, earned his undergraduate degree at Oshkosh State College. He entered general law practice in Sheboygan after earning his law degree. He stayed there for 26 years before former Gov. Walter J. Kohler Jr., appointed him to the Supreme Court in 1951.

In 1957 he made his first try for elective office and gained a 10-year term on the high court.

The new chief justice is regarded in law circles as a highly competent legal scholar.

He believes that a Supreme Court should not rely indefinitely on earlier decisions but should take into consideration economic and social changes.

Democrats Hail Address Scheduled Tuesday; War On Poverty Seen as Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 88th Congress opened its second session today under the multi-million dollar pressures of a campaign year, a new administration striking out on new paths, and a mountainous backlog of unfinished business.

A few hours before the gavels banged in the House and Senate chambers, President Johnson went over with Democratic leaders from the Capitol his first state of the union message, a communication he will deliver in person at a joint session at noon Wednesday.

The party chiefs were close-mouthed on details after their weekly breakfast session at the White House, but agreed the message is "excellent" and "quite to the point."

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said he thinks the American people will respond most favorably.

There was informed speculation that the message will contain proposals for a many-pronged attack on poverty through specialized education and other measures. The new chief executive pledged himself during his work-and-play Christmas holiday in Texas to give high priority to a drive in that direction.

Holds Down Budget
Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen at the White House that the message is "quite to the point in the interest of the American people domestically speaking."

Democratic Senate Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen the message is "quite to the point in the interest of the American people domestically speaking."

Mansfield also said Johnson still is trying to keep the budget for the next fiscal year under $100 billion.

Earlier Mansfield had said that despite strenuous efforts to hold the over-all budget under $100 million, Johnson is scheduled to deliver his message today.

First Lady to Visit
Jobless Regions at Pennsylvania Mines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson flies Saturday to the hard coal country of Pennsylvania to give a speech and to see how Uncle Sam is helping miners and towns struck by unemployment.

The First Lady delivers her brief address at the dedication of a new research center at Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, built with the aid of federal funds.

The research center, operated on a grant from the Ford Foundation, determines a community's training needs to attract new industries to the pinched anthracite area and thus provide new jobs.

Mrs. Johnson made a similar excursion into depressed areas of West Virginia last spring when her husband was vice president to call attention to the work of the Area Redevelopment Administration.

High Blood Pressure Forces Nehru to Rest

BHUBANESWAR, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru, 74, was confined to bed today with high blood pressure. He has been advised to rest for two weeks.

An official statement said there is no cause for anxiety. The announcement followed cancellation of all Nehru's public engagements at the annual meeting here of the ruling Congress party.

Since suffering a urinary tract infection in 1962, Nehru's vitality has not been what it was.

Beside heading the government, Nehru also is foreign minister and kingpin of the Congress party.

Madison Newspaper Alleges New Yorker Pledged Delegates

A report that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York has been promised a substantial number of Wisconsin delegates in return for staying out of the state's presidential primary on April 7 was branded "absolutely incorrect" today by Talbot Peterson, Appleton, state GOP chairman.

Referring to a story in Monday night's Madison Capital Times, Peterson said "there's not a grain of truth in the whole matter."

He said "delegates will be selected on the basis of non-commitment to any presidential candidate. We will not attempt to achieve a balance between any of the candidates."

"Those delegates selected will be committed to John Byrnes only and uncommitted in every sense of the word as far as anyone else is concerned."

Peterson Monday announced that Byrnes, Republican congressman from Green Bay, will head a slate of uncommitted delegates in the spring primary provided no other major candidate enters the race.

Criticize Reynolds
Peterson and Warren Knowles, New Richmond, Republican candidate for governor, both took potshots today at Gov. John Reynolds for his involvement in Republican internal politics.

Knowles told the Post-Crescent that "Gov. Reynolds is strictly politically motivated. He might well spend his time mending his own fences. He has enough problems in the gubernatorial area without interfering with the presidential primary."

Peterson said "the Republican Party is no longer taking advice from the Democratic Party in the conduct of its affairs."

"Also," Peterson said, "I would suggest that if Gov. Reynolds is so eager to have a primary contest, he invite Sen. Hubert Humphrey (of Minnesota), Bobby (U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert) Kennedy and Adlai Stevenson into the Democratic primary with President Johnson."

"Based on past performances, in such a contest Lyndon Johnson would come out last in Wisconsin."

Express Approval
Knowles, as well as the Wisconsin House delegation expressed satisfaction and pleasure over the announced decision of Byrnes to run as the state's

U. S. Expected to Send Surplus Foods to ROK

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — South Korean government sources reported today that the United States has tentatively agreed to ship 400,000 tons of American farm surpluses to South Korea as the initial shipment under the 1964 surplus farm commodities program.

Airmen Remain Hopeful in Hunt For Cargo Plane

HONOLULU (AP) — Weary airmen, some flying their fifth search mission, still expressed strong hope today that the crew and passenger of a missing Air Force cargo plane will be found alive.

"Hope and determination is what's keeping the men going—we don't intend to give up," said Maj. James Gibney, Air Force information officer, as the search entered its sixth day.

Some 70 planes and four ships have been combing the turbulent Pacific Ocean since Jan. 2 when the C124 Globemaster disappeared on a 2,300-mile flight from Wake Island to Hawaii. It was bound for Hill Air Force Base, Utah.

Aboard were eight crewmen and a Navy passenger escorting a comrade's body to the United States from Tokyo.

Reported signals from a "Gibson Girl" emergency transmitter, standard equipment aboard life rafts carried by all such planes, led searchers to believe that at least some of the men survived a ditching at sea.

He was flown in a Ghana Army helicopter to Accra Military Hospital where his condition was described as "not critical."

Donald S. Marszalke, 25, of Chicago, and Phillip U. Burnette, Rittman, Ohio, suffered facial bruises and cuts. They were not hospitalized.

Fight Any Shift Of Foreign Aid

Rumors Hint Effort To Put Some Funds In Defense Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any attempt by the Johnson administration to shift some foreign aid items to the Defense Department's budget is certain to encounter strong and probably effective opposition in the House Appropriations Committee.

Unconfirmed reports that such a move would be made by the administration have been current for weeks in congressional circles.

They have come to the attention of Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., who heads an appropriations subcommittee which had handled all foreign aid funds for years and who has led the fight to cut foreign spending.

"Not on Solid Ground"
"There is some indication," Passman said in an interview, "that they are going to try to scatter foreign aid funds all over the new budget. They are not going to get away with it. This is simply an indication that the requests for new funds are not on solid ground."

Passman warned that "the new team in the executive branch may have to learn the hard way that it is not easy to hide the foreign aid total from Congress."

"Wherever they put it, we will find it and cut out the fat," he added.

Efforts in the past to shift the military part of the aid program to the defense budget have failed, largely because Chairman Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., of the Appropriations Committee has insisted that the entire aid budget be handled in one bill drafted by one subcommittee—headed by Passman.

Cannon has arbitrary power to determine how the over-all federal budget shall be parceled out among his 15 subcommittees.

partner is allowed to win the first trick with the king. He returns the jack of hearts to dummy's ace.

Declarer draws one round of trumps, then leads a diamond to dummy's ace and ruffs a diamond in his hand. Finally he leads the ten of hearts to your queen.

And there you are, in a very tight spot. If you lead hearts or diamonds, dummy can ruff while South gets rid of a club. And if you lead a club, declarer can win a trick with his own king as well as dummy's queen.

If you have been looking ahead, you have seen this situation coming. You know that you are a dead duck if you try to get out with the ace of clubs or with a low club.

You have a chance if you lead the jack of clubs with the right innocent air. The idea is to persuade declarer that you have led from J-10-x or J-10-x-x of clubs.

If South falls for this quite reasonable little swindle, he will let the jack of clubs ride around to the king and will then return a club to finesse with dummy's nine. This would be right if you held the ten of clubs in the West position.

As it happens, East wins with the ten of clubs and returns a club to your ace. This defeats the contract.

Be on the lookout for an unusual return when an opponent catches you in an end-play. A play that would be foolish in ordinary circumstances may be your only chance when you are trapped.

SEAMS TO ME By Patricia Scott

Teen-Age Trimmings

Want to add some feminine touches to your teen-age daughter's bedroom? A couple of pillows, printed or plain, trimmed with eyelet ruffles and a tiered eyelet lamp shade, will do the trick.

Pat Scott

Tiered eyelet lamp shade: For a 6-inch shade: 3 yards of eyelet embroidered batiste ruffling, 2 inches wide; one snap fastener.

1. Cut one circle of fabric for top, equal to diameter, plus 1/2 inch seam allowance. Cut remaining fabric in half, for underside. Overlap cut edges 1 1/2 inches and pin. Cut your second circle from this. Make a very narrow hem on straight edges. Apply snap at center of these edges.

2. Stitch ruffling to top cover section with right sides of ruffling and cover together with ruffling heading at raw edge. Stitch just below heading and seam ruffle ends together.

3. Place top and bottom cover right sides together and pin for seam. Stitch top row 1/4 inch from upper edge. Make side seam, being sure to leave ruffling free. Join raw edges of each ruffle. Stitch beading to top of shade, stitching along both edges of beading. Insert ribbon and make a bow and tack to shade.

Round pillow cover: One round pillow 15 inches in diameter; 1/2 yard of fabric; 1 1/2 yards of eyelet embroidered batiste ruffling, 2 inches wide; one snap fastener.

1. Cut one circle of fabric for top, equal to diameter, plus 1/2 inch seam allowance. Cut remaining fabric in half, for underside. Overlap cut edges 1 1/2 inches and pin. Cut your second circle from this. Make a very narrow hem on straight edges. Apply snap at center of these edges.

2. Stitch ruffling to top cover section with right sides of ruffling and cover together with ruffling heading at raw edge. Stitch just below heading and seam ruffle ends together.

3. Place top and bottom cover right sides together and pin

(ruffling inside). Seam over ruffle stitching. Clip seam allowance every inch or so. Turn cover to right side, press seam allowing ruffling to extend. Slip over pillow.

Square pillow cover: One pillow 16 inches square; 1/2 yard of fabric; 2 1/4 yards of eyelet embroidered batiste ruffling, 2 inches wide; 2 yards of embroidered batiste beading 1/2 or 3/4 inch wide; 2 1/2 yards of ribbon to fit beading; one snap fastener.

1. Cut top and bottom squares as in step No. 1 for round cover, substituting width for diameter.

2. Follow step No. 2 for round cover, but first pin one-inch deep pleat in ruffling on each side of each corner.

3. Pin top and bottom sections right sides together with ruffling inside and seam over ruffle stitching.

4. Turn to right side and press seam flat. Apply beading to pillow top by stitching one edge of beading at seam through all layers and the other edge to top only. Draw ribbon through beading; make a bow of ribbon and tack where ribbon ends join. Slip over pillow.

Today's Etiquette BY LOUISE DAVIS

BAFFLED BEST MAN

Dear Louise: I am to be best man at a wedding. When I checked with the bridegroom about our duties including the handing of the fee to the clergyman, I was told that neither of us do it because that is the obligation of the bride's parents. Is that correct and if so, it's new to me. The prospective bridegroom is a widower with a son and a daughter, ages 14 and 12. As best man is it my duty to bring the children to our house after the wedding and are my wife and I supposed to keep them while their father is on his honeymoon?

Davis

Louise Davis Answers: The bridegroom had better learn the correct and standard procedure about the fee which is his duty, not that of the bride's parents. He either hands it to the clergyman himself, or he lets you be its custodian so that you can do it for him. No, it is not your duty as best man to transport the children to your house or to anybody's house. Your job is to be "gentleman-in-waiting" to the bridegroom, not to his children or to any one else. Surely the bridegroom can ask a relative or a neighbor friend to take the children away either during or after the reception. They are not your responsibility unless you and your wife volunteer. Let us hope the children can remain at home with an adult "baby sitter" or "overseer" where they will be near their school.

Your Problems

It's Cheaper to Hire Help Than Have Mate in Hospital

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When I read that letter from the young mother who shrieked at her four children all day and was a nervous wreck, it made me feel better. I thought I was the only mother in the world who acted like that. I found myself wishing she was from Illinois so maybe we would wind up in the same mental hospital.

Landers

I, too, would like to have a spotless house and a lovely meal on the table when Frank comes home at night. But how can I with four little kids and an invalid mother-in-law to take care of? And then there's the washing, ironing, mending, marketing and cooking. Last night I had to drop everything and iron a white shirt for Frank to wear to his lodge meeting. He called me a "disorganized nit-wit." He yelled it so loudly I'm sure the children heard him.

I'm a nervous wreck and can't even find time to take my tranquilizer pills. Please help me. — Skin and Bones

Dear Frank: Hire a woman to come in at least one day a week so your wife can enjoy a change of scenery and repair her shattered nerves.

If you think you can't afford it, compare the cost with a full time housekeeper for your children after your wife breaks down completely.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 49 years old, have been divorced for 10 years and share an apartment with my mother. I usually bowl Saturday and Sunday afternoons with a friend but last Friday evening, on the spur of the moment, I decided to go over and bowl a few lines by myself. My mother really blew up. She said no respectable girl goes alone to a place that has a lounge and sells liquor.

I don't drink—in fact, I hate the smell of the stuff. And I am no longer either, if you know what I mean. Some girls undoubtedly get picked up at bowling alleys but these same girls would get picked up in theatres, in restaurants or ball parks.

Will you please settle this?—Jennie

Dear Jennie: A 49-year-old woman who wishes to go bowling on a Friday evening doesn't need to check with her mother.

I do feel, however, that it makes a great deal more sense to go bowling with a friend rather than alone. You not only protect yourself from gossip but you have more fun.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a working girl who just barely manages to support myself. I make a good salary but the cost of living in this city is sky-high and every penny counts.

Two co-workers in this office are nickel and diming me to death. One gal lives near me and we take the same bus to work. Twice last week she asked me to pay her bus fare and I did. I know I'll never see that money again.

The other girl is a coffee-break mooch. She never has change or she is flat broke. Her favorite line is, "I'll buy yours tomorrow." I have also bought cigarettes for her and chipped in for a shower gift when she didn't have the money.

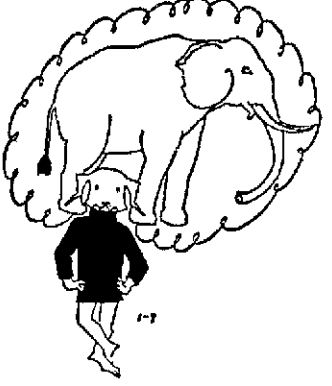

Please tell me what to do. I just can't bring myself to ask a person to pay back a quarter or 50 cents. It seems so petty. Thank you.—Poorhouse Here I Come

Dear Poorhouse: These girls have learned to out-fumble, out-guts and out-smart you. They will continue to take advantage of you so long as you allow it.

Adopt a new phrase. . . "Sorry, I can't afford it." Use the phrase whenever you are asked to buy coffee, pay bus fare, chip in for a gift or

THINK BIG

IF YOU'RE A DEEP THINKER—think big! It will take some time for all those well thought-out plans to develop anyway and they are bound to deflate a little on the way down. But when you get your mind used to visualizing things in giant proportions, you'll never be the one sitting at home—a nondescript mousy little creature waiting for some exciting thing to happen to lift your spirits. So swell up your chest, hold your head high, and have your thinking on the highest level possible. (Copyright, 1964)

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Due Thanks

A thank-you note is a test of the basics of courtesy. What's more it meters one's personal charm.

To delay writing thank-yous for a gift can only be thought unmannerly. An interval of fourteen days is the limit, and that timing brings us up to the deadline for the acknowledgement of holiday remembrances.

Good form also requires the use of appropriate stationery. Generally speaking, folded notepaper and small single sheets in classic colors — white, cream, gray or blue — would not play a writer false.

Furthermore, expressions of thanks to friends must be handwritten. Typing can only be justified when thanks are incorporated in a long, chatty letter to a close friend.

Thoughtful wording, of course, is what cues a writer's charm. Appreciation comes through best when you single out some detail about a gift that especially appeals to you. "Thank you for the scarf" — period — would express little enthusiasm and less wit.

A more gracious wording would be? "Your gift scarfs both my throat and head. It superb in the neckline of my new suit. Worn as a kerchief, it's a great topnote for casuals. My thanks to you goes double!" In such phrasing the given finds real gratitude and a compliment to her taste, too.

Above all, remember that to write a note that gives pleasure, you must take pleasure in writing it!

To open a door on increased poise and popularity, send for our booklet, Winning Manners. Topics included are Introductions, Invitations, Table Manners, The Charming Hostess, You — The Guest, Dating Manners, Formal Dances, Travel Tips and Tipping, Small Points, like when to wear a hat or check your coat. Children Bicker Over Seat While Riding in Family Car

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: How can we eliminate the wrangles every time we get in the automobile? Our 5-year-old girl and 7-year-old boy invariably bicker about who gets to sit in the middle up front. I guess neither one likes to sit alone in the back seat.

Dr. Jones

MR. K. S. You can eliminate the problem by eliminating your current poor safety habits. Put both children in the back seat with safety belts on them to keep them there. Tell them that when they're old enough to drive a car, they'll be allowed to sit up front.

Dear Dr. Jones: Until my daughter entered school last year, she was a happy and healthy girl. She liked to play with her friends and she never had anything more than a cold. But after the first week of school, she caught all the childhood diseases and had frequent strep throats. So she was out of the first grade more than she was in.

Over the summer, she was fine again. But since starting second grade, she has either been sick or else she has been afraid to go to school and she wants to stay home. She says she's afraid she'll get sick again. Her teacher called me to complain about her absences and also said that I should take my daughter to a psychiatrist because all she ever talks about is getting sick.

I took her to a new physician to see if he could build up her resistance. But he said no medicine could help her because her problem is emotional and I should just make her go to school until she gets used to it.

I don't see how that will help. If she's getting sick because she doesn't like school, won't she just go on getting sick? And how can I make her go to school when she's running a fever?

MRS. P. O.

Your objections make a great deal of sense. So why don't you take the only sensible course of action and obtain psychological help for your daughter? That way, she'll get over the problems that are causing her to fear school and to get ill. The agency whose name I'm sending you will help you arrange your first appointments for examinations and counseling.

Dr. Jones replies personally to every letter her readers write her. Send your questions, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, to Dr. Eve Jones, care of this newspaper.

Chest X-Ray Reveals Respiratory Ailments

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would cancer of the lung be revealed by an ordinary mobile unit TB chest X-ray? If so, would the person so affected be notified by mail?

MRS. C. A. Good questions — one hard to answer, one easier. TB chest X-rays often disclose the presence of conditions other than tuberculosis. Respiratory ailments, heart enlargement, or occasionally other things come to light.

The report from a mobile unit is not sent to the person. If nothing worthy of mention is found, that's the end of the matter.

But if anything suspicious is found, this is communicated to whatever doctor has been designated by the person having the X-ray, or a statement to the patient to have the X-ray repeated for checking purposes.

This means that some "false alarms" will be sounded—there will be something which looks suspicious, or needs further investigation, yet in the end some of these will prove to be harmless. This may worry the patient, naturally, but it is a wise precaution.

Now, will such an X-ray reveal cancer? Yes and no!

Need Examination Extremely early in development (as we know from the "Pap smear" technique), nothing less than microscopic examination will disclose the presence of the faulty cells which constitute cancer. Not even X-ray will show that.

Later, as the tumor begins to grow larger, the shape of it can be pictured by X-ray.

But even this does not necessarily mean cancer. It may be a benign tumor. It may be a calcified spot left from some previous illness, whether TB or histoplasmosis or something else.

In some cases, skilled examination of the X-ray plate may give a reliable answer as to the condition. Again, it may afford a shrewd guess which then can be verified by some other means. Or, at times, the spot on the X-ray plate may require considerable investigation before its nature — innocent or dangerous — can be determined.

Thus the TB chest X-ray does not often give a flat yes or no answer concerning lung cancer.

But it does give an indication of whether something is wrong, and does let you know if there is reason for you to go to your doctor for more tests.

And if you hear nothing about your chest X-ray, why, that's good news.

Emotional Asthma Dear Dr. Molner: Years ago my baby sister had asthma. It seemed that every time she was asked to do something, or couldn't get her way, she would start coughing and carrying on, like she was having an attack. Then mother and father would give in.

Recently I read that some asthma is emotional. Would you comment?

MRS. B. J. Emotional tension can trigger an attack if the person is subject to asthma. My guess — and it's only that — is that your sister learned early in life that if she got upset enough about things, she would trigger an attack. And that would result in getting her own way.

Note to Mrs. R. B.: Yes, the Federal Government has a very fine hospital for narcotic addicts, at Lexington, Ky. It is sometimes called a "farm" or a "center," but it is a hospital.

Shingles can be a painful disease! To receive a copy of my pamphlet, "The Facts About Shingles," write Dr. Molner in care of the Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible. (Copyright 1964)

Live Within Your Income Writer Wishes Readers New Attitude for Handling Funds

BY MARY FEELEY Consultant in Money Management

Everybody's wishing you a prosperous 1964, with an unexpected windfall and pie right out of the sky. But what I wish most of you is a new attitude toward your same old income! You may be living with it for quite a while.

Most of us split our seams trying to earn more money. The wonder is that we don't make better use of what we already have. If you're looking for a new challenge for the New Year, see how much more you can get out of what you earn than you got out of the same amount last year. It will keep you busy while you're waiting for the big break. It will almost inevitably build some savings in the bank, too. And you know the old saying — money attracts money attracts money. Hold onto that thought!

Take a new attitude toward small savings. Therein lies the secret of stability. There are quite a few ways of putting aside a dollar, without even feeling the pinch. And if you want to contest that fact, try the ones listed here before you holler:

Reassess That Budget Make just one more payment on that installment loan after you've paid up — only put this extra payment in a savings account. You're already in the habit of meeting that obligation. So this additional payment won't upset the budget. This is a good time to re-evaluate your budget and see if you can't continue to put some portion of this amount aside as a regular savings.

If you receive overtime pay occasionally, bank it. Deposit something — even a dollar — in your savings account as soon as you get your pay check. Make it the first "expenditure." Carry only the running money you actually need in your pocket. Re-evaluate your insurance. This can lead to more protection perhaps, more borrowing potential when you need it most. Plan two specific "economy"

The Ailing House Swinging Door Makes Hazard

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: The house we recently purchased and moved into has a swinging door between kitchen and dining room. With five active youngsters (and a dog) this has created an extra hazard, and I want to take the door off, so that there is just an open doorway. How do I remove this type of door? The hinges aren't "standard."

A: Just remove the side plates covering the mechanical parts; then remove these carefully. You can plug up any holes in the door frame with a round piece of doweling or with putty available in stick form in an assortment of most popular wood colors at many hardware and plywood dealers. You can also simply fill with plastic wood, sand smooth, stain to match and dab on the proper finish.

Q: We have just moved into a middle-aged house. The wood living room floor has several dents apparently from heavy pieces of furniture of the previous tenants. We use small throw rugs and these dents show. Is there any way we can get rid of them?

A: A putty-like material in popular wood colors, is available at many hardware, paint and plywood dealers. This can be used to fill the dents. Or fill the dents with wood filler or plastic wood, staining and finishing to match rest of the floor. Heat and dampness can be employed to penetrate the wood so the wood fibers, which have been pushed down, may return

Try a Jug Bank

Remember you're paying transportation every time you use the car. If you had to drop money in the coin box each time, how many times would you walk rather than ride? It's a good question to ask the family. Try keeping a household family bank. A family vacation might be one good objective.

The last idea proved a real "find" for one family, who used an old jug for a bank. No doubt the container suggested a high old time, so everybody contributed. Anyway, in a matter of months the jug collected $147. Each member dropped in a coin when ever he thought about it or had an extra piece of change in his pocket. The whole family was happily stunned to see how much could be accumulated with so little pain.

Discovery is always exciting. So discover how much more you can have than you thought you could. Start off with the assumption that you haven't been getting the full benefit of your earnings. But this year you're going to — or know the reason why.

Wage Resolution Asks Added 4 Per Cent Hike

Outagamie Personnel Committee Prepares Cost of Living Increase Recommendation

A resolution being prepared by the Outagamie County personnel committee will ask that certain county employees be granted a 7 per cent cost-of-living raise instead of the 3 per cent which went into effect Wednesday.

The resolution is the result of a public hearing Dec. 11 in which the personnel committee met with the courthouse employees association to hear a petition for a 10 per cent salary hike in place of the 3 per cent increase.

Benefits Committee Chairman Courtney Schwartz said the resolution for the 7 per cent increase is considered a major victory for the employees association. The proposal must still be voted by county board supervisors Tuesday, Jan. 14.

Schwartz said that the association's request was that employees be given a "stopgap" salary increase during the period that the county board members are studying possible salary and wage adjustments.

3 Per Cent Increase
Employees received a 3 per cent wage increase this year and were slated for a 4 per cent jump in January, 1965.

Glenn Pelton, chairman of the personnel committee, told members of the county's executive committee the 7 per cent increase "would put us in a favorable position to buy help and compete with private industry at the present time."

The increase is set on the true base salary of each employee as of Jan. 1, 1958, Pelton said. The increases, if approved,

Airline Files Officer List

Fox Cities Firm Says It Will Fill Air Service Gap

The names of the new officers and directors of Fox Cities Airlines Inc. of Appleton, have been filed at the office of the Secretary of State in Madison.

The officers, who also serve as directors, are William H. Pifer, president; John Conway, vice president; Gus A. Zuehlke, treasurer, and Karl P. Baldwin, secretary.

Other directors are F. John Barlow, Charles L. Dostal, Victor I. Minahan, Allen C. Mulder, Talbot Peterson, Bruce Purdy, A. J. Rudolf, Richard A. Slack, Roy J. Sund, William H. Zuehlke, Jr., all of Appleton; William H. Clifford, Neenah; a James R. Gusman, Kaukauna.

Baldwin said this morning the objective of the organizers is to make sure the Fox Cities have adequate air service. In view of North Central Airlines' avowed interest in ending service here, the corporation will be ready to fill the gap, he added.

Neenah Man Held on Bogus Check Charge

Robert C. Clark, 38, 309 Bond St., Neenah, will face a preliminary hearing Wednesday on three charges of passing forged checks. He appeared Monday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 where he was ordered held in lieu of $3,000 bond.

Appleton police arrested Clark Saturday after an investigation into the alleged passing of checks. The checks totaled $75,

Tribal Council Backs Oneida Housing Project

26-Unit Low Rent Construction to Include Apartments for Elderly, Family Houses

ONEIDA—A 26-unit low rent housing project will be constructed here for members of the Oneida Indian tribe, it was announced Monday night at the semi-annual tribal council.

The project, approved by the U.S. Public Housing Authority, will include a community center building, two apartment buildings with quarters for 20 elderly Oneidas and six houses for families.

Site will be a 16-acre wooded tract east of State 54 and south of Duck Creek on east limits of the Oneida community in Brown County.

The site is on former tribal land now owned by Holy Apostles Episcopal Church and will be donated by Bishop William Brady, Fond du Lac.

Details of the project, expected to cost about $400,000 in federal funds, were presented by Arley Skenandore, Green Bay, chairman of the newly-formed Oneida Housing Authority.

The plan, prepared by Nicholas and Brummel, Green Bay, will cost the county approximately $58,000, and would be about $20,000 more than the 3 per cent increase.

Not included in the resolution are salary hikes for elective officers; appointive officers, judges; court reporters and employees of the welfare department. The wages and salaries of those employees are determined by state standards.

Bank Razing Alters Traffic, Parking Space

1st National Will Begin Tearing Down Building This Week

Razing of the front half of the First National Bank will start this week, forcing more changes in the parking and traffic pattern in the business district.

Building Inspector Charles Magnette issued a wrecking permit Monday to Hoffman Construction Co., which estimated it will cost $12,000 to tear down the remaining portion of the building.

The bank is constructing a $1.5 million building, with half the structure completed.

During demolition and construction, it will be necessary for the contractor to occupy about 22 feet of College Avenue.

AAL Project
At the other end of the block, the Aid Association for Lutherans building project is underway.

As a result of the activity, the council has:

—Ordered the removal of five parking meters and prohibited parking in the 100 block of S. Appleton Street on the east side of the street from south of the alley to W. Lawrence Street.

—Prohibited parking on the south side of College Avenue in the 200 block to allow four lanes of travel during the construction period of new buildings.

—Removed five parking stalls on the north side of College Avenue in the 200 block west of the bank construction site, to provide ingress and egress to the bank during the excavation period.

Judge Drops Charge, Returns $50 Fine, Costs

CHILTON—Calumet County Judge D. H. Sehora Monday granted the motion of District Attorney F. J. Schmieder requesting that a conservation violation charge against James Domke, 1533 W. Spring St., Appleton, be dropped.

Domke had been arrested Nov. 30 by Warden Keith Reichbach for shooting a fawn deer in the Town of Harrison.

At a court appearance on Dec. 16, Domke pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $50 and costs. Wisconsin Statutes set this as a minimum fine allowable for shooting a fawn deer.

The court learned Domke had called the warden to report the incident, and Judge Sehora ordered the case reopened.

At a brief hearing Monday, District Attorney F. J. Schmieder asked that the charges be dropped. Judge Sehora granted the request and ordered Domke's fine money and costs be returned to him.

Concert Patrons Hear Ensemble's Artistry

Budding Talent of Woodwind Quintet Displayed in Harper Hall Presentation

Last night's Harper Hall concert by the Chicago Woodwind Quintet gave Lawrence chamber music series patrons a chance to sample the artistry of a budding instrumental ensemble, plus the merits of an infrequently explored musical realm.

The ensemble was another of the offspring of Chicago's remarkable haven for the arts, the Music Center of the North Shore.

The quintet, less than two years old, has as its greatest asset the youthful vitality of its players, and an obviously maturing artistic capability. There were some highly musical moments in the group's performance, and certainly many in this near-capacity audience left with delighted hearts.

It would be folly to suppose that with such a brief association, and with such young members, any chamber ensemble could be polished to a gloss. But we cast our vote for the quintet's satisfying performance, and sometimes downright exciting treatment of a delightful batch of woodwind chamber literature.

Paul Hindemith, (the late composer we must add, to our sorrow,) got showpiece billing for his Kleine Kammermusik, closing out the program's first half. This busy kaleidoscope of musical color had some particularly sensitive moments in its waltz and plaintive slow movement. The quintet's treatment tended to overstatement, sometimes in breadth of tempo, sometimes in overblown passages. But there was considerable rapport among the voices all along the way, and generally this music seemed understood.

Likewise, there were good moments in the Haydn "Diver-timento" which features the stately St. Antony Chorale, and in a transparent "Trio Sonata in C Minor" by Johann Joachim Quantz, court musician to Frederick the Great. In both cases, the music seemed to be familiar to the quintet, and the results were pleasant.

Concerning the matter of over-playing, it seemed to us that the quintet reached its best moments with a subdued sound. In fact, if one would study the particular instruments played at this performance, it is our guess that nearly all are best resonated at low intensities. Richard Rusch's bassoon, for example, spoke quite beautifully in the quietest passages, as did Chester Milosovich's clarinet. Hence, the effectiveness of Rusch's play in the Quantz trio sonata, and of Milosovich's sound in the limp encore, "Nocturne" from "The Chimney of King Rene" by Milhaud.

County Jail May Contract Caterer

Judge Won't Permit Term 'Drunken Driver' In Future Jury Trials

Keller Vows to Call Mistrial If Lawyers Use Label in Court

Use of the term "drunk drivers" in jury cases involving persons arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol has been outlawed in Outagamie County Court Branch 2, according to County Judge Gustave Keller.

Lawyers appearing for clients in cases involving driving under the influence of alcohol will be confined to saying it that way and will not be allowed to use drunk or drunken driving.

Judge Keller said the terms are influences on juries and are often used to advantage by both the prosecution and the defense.

If the terms are used in the courtroom, Judge Keller said he will call a mistrial and halt the proceedings. Attorneys will be warned of the new ruling prior to the case being brought into court during a meeting in the judge's chambers.

Term Misinterpreted
"When someone is called drunk," Judge Keller said in explaining his ruling, "the term is often interpreted to mean that the person has lost complete control of himself and has passed out."

"Under the statute defining operating under the influence, drivers must only be proven to be influenced by alcohol and do not necessarily have to be in complete lack of physical control," the judge said.

State statutes have determined legal intoxication can be determined by any driver who registers over a reading of .15 on a drunkometer or breathalyzer examination.

Plan Polio 'Toll Bridge'

Legion in Kimberly, Little Chute Will Sponsor Collection

LITTLE CHUTE—Legionnaires from three communities representing two Legion Posts will join forces Saturday to conduct the annual "Toll Bridge for Polio" on the community bridge.

Men will assemble at 4 a.m. to begin stopping motorists for contributions. Cars will be given stickers showing they have contributed, permitting additional bridge crossings without interfering in the traffic flow.

The idea first was tried in 1956. A total of $7,020 collected through the years. Last year's effort was the most successful, with $963 collected. Kimberly and Little Chute Legion posts conduct the affair. Money collected is distributed among the two and Combined Locks.

Area merchants contribute coffee and doughnuts to men conducting the toll as winds sweeping across the Fox River are bitterly cold this month. A warming shed is provided to permit shifts to alternate collection will continue until 8 p.m.

Little Chute men planning the event are Tony Geerts and Tony Van Bostel. Cletus Dietzler and James Williams represent Kimberly, and Vincent Jansen and Earl Jansen represent Combined Locks.

Xavier High May Construct Auditorium

New Fine Arts Wing Would Seat Between 600, 800 People

A fine arts wing with a 600 to 800-seat auditorium may be added to Xavier High School within the next two years.

There has been speculation about the addition, which school officials say is badly needed. No definite plans on construction dates or costs have been made.

The wing would include a band room, art laboratory, dramatics area and storage space in addition to the auditorium. It would be added to the gymnasium area of the present building.

Fine Arts Expanded
Emphasis on the fine arts has been expanded at Xavier in the past two years, with the addition of art courses and more extracurricular activities. The band days, the matron working in gained nationwide attention last year when the wind ensemble won in national competition the right to a concert at the opening session of the National Catholic Music Educators convention in Cleveland. The school also put on its first fine arts fair last spring.

Xavier was opened in 1959. Possible expansion plans have been under study for the past year. The new college-type county schedule introduced last fall was expected to increase the student capacity of the building from 1,100 to about 1,600. The enrollment now is 1,260, and study because the study is proposed something that is against tradition in the county. The committee said it would inquire if any counties in the state are using the catering program.

No Kitchen Matron
Caterers would eliminate the need for a kitchen matron and instead the matron would have to be on its first fine arts fair last spring.

Pelton said if the sheriff has objections to the program, "it may be that the program could be put in effect during some fumatics area and storage space administration." Pelton said the study also will explore the possibility of having laundry service on a carry-out and delivery basis.

Warn Kimberly Board To Watch Spending

KIMBERLY—Village President Alvin Fulcer opened the first meeting of the new year by advising village board members to begin watching expenditures to insure operating within the budget.

"It is too late to look at the budget in October and find yourself dangerously close to being overspent," warned Fulcer. "Internal control of the budget starts at the beginning of the year and is a continuing thing," said the president.

He reminded trustees of the $50,000 overspending in 1962 and stated the budget in 1963 was exceeded by $27,000. Only revenues above the estimated figure enabled the village to finish the year near even financially, he pointed out. Fulcer urged close scrutiny of all purchases, particularly those not anticipated in the budget.

The village president thanked trustees and village committees for their work during the past year and reviewed some of the progress during the year. He pointed to the improvement of Kimberly Avenue as a major improvement during the year and said several large machinery purchases were made which will prove beneficial in the future.

Board Business
Board members voted to purchase a new squad car from Gusman Chevrolet at low bid of $1,239 with trade. Approval was given to the purchase of a combination siren and outside speaker from Williamson Corporation at a cost of $185. The executive committee was authorized to have Williamson sell the old siren.

The contract with Dari-Lab, Manitowoc, to operate the Grade A milk program, was renewed at a cost of $1,660 per year. Approval was given to paying the $180 League of Municipalities membership fee and workmen's compensation and liability insurance was renewed at a cost of $1,894 per year.

Discussion was held on the parking problem near apartment buildings in the community where car owners are unable to have cars off the streets as required by village ordinance. The administrative committee and police department were advised to study the problem and make recommendations to the board.

The engineer was instructed to begin preparing plans and specifications for the Joseph and Third Street improvement program to be undertaken in 1964.

Menasha Wants Action on City Hall

Council Wants Architect Hired To Begin Planning for Building

MENASHA — Members of city hall and several agreed to council Monday night, meeting in committee of the whole, indicated they are anxious to hire an architectural firm as soon as possible to begin the design for a new municipal administration building for Menasha.

However, it was obvious no agreement on a site for the building is going to come easily. An argument immediately broke out when suggestions of a site were offered.

Council moved ahead though in arranging for a site selection and the hiring of an architect. Several members of council agreed to travel to Beaver Dam Sunday to view that city's new city hall and several agreed to travel to Oshkosh to view that city's newly opened municipal building.

A meeting of the municipal building committee was set for either Jan. 13 or 15 so that members could work on selection of a site.

Many councilmen indicated Monday night they favor construction of the building in what is now known as Racine Park, abutted by Racine, First and Second Streets.

Other sites suggested were on Chute where the police and fire departments are now located and on Water Street, somewhere near the municipal parking lot.

Arguments against the Racine Street site centered principally in proposals to have the city hall in the business hub of the city.

Mayor John Klein, who indicated he possibly favors the Racine Street site, although he did not say so, pointed out the Schelle report shows it is not necessary to build a municipal building in the hub of the city but can be built anywhere.

Klein said he has received letters from several architects interested in designing the building.

Bridges, Expressway Essential Part of a Comprehensive Plans

NEENAH — An expressway system which includes two bridges in the Little Lake Butte des Morts area and runs through a good portion of the Fox River Valley, is the essential part of a comprehensive building plan prepared by the Fox River Valley Planning Commission.

While addressing a luncheon of the Neenah Club, Franchette explained that the plan is the result of a 1960 comprehensive study by the commission to coordinate industrial, recreational, educational growth with the expected population expansion in the Valley by 1985.

Pointing out that the valley has a healthy industrial base and an expected population growth to 228,000 by 1985 (presently 130,000), he said that the expressway section of the plan will be essential to an increase of land usage and community facilities.

According to the plan, bridges to be built are one, over Little Lake Butte des Morts at about Ninth Street, Menasha, and the other over the mouth of the Fox River north of Stroebe's Island.

Both of the bridges will connect expressways with U.S. 41.

The bridge over the lake will lead off of an expressway which runs north-south in the Town of Menasha. This road connects with an east-west expressway running along the power lines in the town of Menasha.

The second bridge, above Stroebe's Island, will connect with the east-west expressway on the east side of the Fox River, and with County Trunk BB once across the river.

This same east-west expressway will extend eastward to Speel School Road in the Town of Harrison and then straight north (east of Appleton) to U.S. 41. This northward path follows the general lines of French Road.

The plan also calls for another expressway extending from the east-west expressway to U.S. 41. This additional route will be on the east side of Little Lake Chute between Combined Locks and Kaukauna.

College Avenue, according to the plans, will be extended due east to Kaukauna.

Franchette explained that the plan also describes general land use projections in the valley based on the population increase, and further advises prospective school and park sites.

He said that the whole comprehensive plan must be accepted in its entirety because each part of the plan depends upon the others.

The FRVPC's consultant on the comprehensive plan was Kenneth Schellie and Associates, Indianapolis, Ind.

Other proposals by the commission for the Valley includes a committee to establish a uniform building code, and recommendations for model zoning ordinances and a sub-division plan.

One indication of the success of the FRVPC is the recent development of state work in the planning of the bridge over Little Lake Butte des Morts, he said.

The state highway commission wouldn't give the bridge proposal a thought until it was supported by the municipalities and the FRVPC, he said.

The commission is also attempting to solve a unique soil problem in the valley, he said and thus has set up a proposal for a soil survey which may be partially assisted by federal grants.

He stressed all through his talk that the position of the commission is to make recommendations in policy for long range goals and not to become involved in details and specifics.

States' Revenues Will Increase With Tax Cut

BY SYLVIA PORTER

"What's the use of the tax cut? It'll only invite the states and cities to leap in, raise their taxes and take the cut all back for themselves. We'll be no better off in the end. Who's kidding whom?"

Surely you have heard a variation of this said during the prolonged congressional debate over the $11 billion federal income tax cut, and you well may have said it yourself. What I've quoted above are the precise remarks of a highly intelligent man at a recent dinner party and the group around us nodded in resigned, cynical agreement.

But persuasive though the argument sounds, it is an upside-down viewpoint of the impact that the 1964-65 tax reductions will have on your state and local taxes. Here are facts and figures to put the story straight in your mind.

State Revenue

(1) The federal tax cuts actually will INCREASE the tax take of our state and local governments by billions of dollars a year — without any change in current state and local tax rates or the introduction of any new taxes.

It will do so because the tax reductions will stimulate business and consumer spending, and thus the state and local governments will collect more from the taxes they now impose on business and consumer spending. For instance, as consumers spend more for goods, sales taxes on the goods will bring in extra revenue to the local governments. As businesses invest more in plants and properties, the various types of business and property taxes will bring in extra revenue to the local governments.

In the 16 states which allow deduction of federal income taxes in computation of state income taxes, the benefits to the states will be direct. The reason is you'll have more income left after you've taken your deductions from the states to tax at their current rates.

Joint Study

An official study by the Treasury for Congress' Joint Economic Committee estimates that when the tax cut is fully effective in 1965 it will hike state revenues $1.5 billion and local government revenues $1.4 billion — a hefty total of $2.9 billion a year.

The Treasury figures that, with no change in rates or new taxes, New York will gain $410 million a year; California will gain $404 million a year; Illinois will gain $161 million; Michigan $158 million.

(2) Due to the relentlessly rising demands of our exploding population for schools, roads, water and sanitation facilities, police and fire protection, etc., state and local government taxes are going up year after year. They will go up with a federal income tax cut, they will go up without a federal income tax cut.

The federal income tax cut will be offset by the state-local tax increases only to the extent that the state-local tax boosts would not have occurred in the absence of a federal tax cut and to the extent that the tax boosts are not matched by increases in state-local government spending. With taxpayers across the nation protesting sharply against state-local tax hikes and simultaneously demanding increased services, the chances of this combination are mighty slim.

Spur Economy

(3) When state and local governments spend money on such projects as roads, hospitals, schools, etc., they too spur the economy and help create jobs, profits and paychecks.

The overall impact on the economy is THE SAME whether you spend $1,000 on steel to build a house or a businessman spends $1,000 on steel to build a mill or a local government spends $1,000 on steel to build a bridge. The key point which underlines the distortion in the comment, "We'll be no better off," is that the state-local tax money is spent to accelerate the economy.

Throughout all 1963's talk about tax cuts, what we got were increases in our social security, state and local taxes. Now at last we are to get a federal income tax cut. This will spur the economy. It will raise the total of incomes on which states and cities collect taxes. The answer to "Who's kidding whom?" is that, without a federal tax cut, the state-local tax squeeze will get worse. With a federal tax cut, the squeeze will hurt us less.

Jack Lee Burns, 26, 1115 S. Lawe St., was found guilty of drunken driving and was fined $200 and court costs in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. A six-man jury returned the verdict.

He was taken to the Appleton police station where he was examined by a doctor and where the chemical test was given. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Burns' drivers license was revoked one year by Judge Gustave Keller.

Legion Post Votes Not to Change Name

Appleton's Oney Johnston-Edward Blessman American Legion Post 38 Monday night voted down a resolution to rename the organization Oney Johnston-Edward Blessman - Christopher Cavanaugh Post.

Richard H. Bowden, 2817 E. Wisconsin Ave., who proposed the resolution, said members decided not to add the third name because Cavanaugh did not die in action.

Johnston was killed in combat in World War I while Blessman was a victim of WWII action. Cavanaugh, who died Feb. 17, 1960, at 28, was a veteran of the Korean War. He was a past vice commander of the post, and organized and headed the "Brass Hats," post 38's drill team.

The resolution calling for addition of Cavanaugh's name said "he performed numerous deeds for our post which made him an outstanding legionnaire."

Did You Hear About the bunny hunter that bagged a balloon? Back in November a batch of promotional balloons intended to become airborne messengers for Appleton and the Post-Crescent seemed destined to be grounded before their release date. Pre-inflation with helium fizzled as most of the gas escaped before "lift-off" hour. But released they were after a crash program of re-inflating the rubber spheres. It least one balloon made the most of its free flight opportunity. Nick Ver Hey, one of a group of rabbit hunters working cover along the east shore of Lake Michigan near Glenn — about 20 miles south of Holland, Mich. and opposite Kenosha — spotted one of the balloons. The report eventually found its way to the Post-Crescent, with a picture of the hunter.

Crossing Guard Question Goes to Council Committee

NEENAH — The crossing guard problem will be the main item discussed at the Neenah Council's public protection meeting at 7 p.m. tonight in city hall, according to chairman Peter Fara.

"All of the committee members seem to have their own opinion on this matter," he said, "but I expect it will be resolved tonight and we'll have a recommendation for the council at the next meeting."

Fara said the women crossing guard problem centers around the question of whether they should be permitted to direct traffic, regardless of whether it is in assisting children across the intersection.

Neenah Board Eyes Safety Of 7 Students

NEENAH — Concern was expressed by the board of education Monday night about the safety of the seven Green Acres area students who will have to cross Highway 41 enroute to school after Monday. Bus transportation will be eliminated for junior and senior high school students who live within the city limits but more than two miles from their school.

The question of responsibility for safety was referred to City Atty Charles Schaller.

The change in operation, ordered by the school board to eliminate purchase of two buses and to comply with the $70,000 budget cut ordered by the council, will affect 120 boys and girls. There are 34 from the Island area, 79 from the Taft School area and seven from the Green Acres area. Five of the Green Acres group go to the junior high and two to senior high.

James Clark, business administrator, advised the board that there is room for the seven children from Green Acres on buses now scheduled through the area.

Housewife Seeking Treasurer's Office

KAUKAUNA — Mrs. Lester Pitt, 1309 Hillcrest Drive, took out nomination papers for the office of city treasurer, thus becoming the first candidate for that office.

Mrs. Pitt, a housewife and mother of seven children, is making her first try for public office.

Grove St., Menasha, driver of the radar car, received a whiplash injury in the mishap and was taken to a nearby doctor's office for treatment. Damage to the squad car was estimated at $400.

The accident apparently occurred while Koneczke was parked partially off the street in the area designated for parking by Marathon mail trucks.

Koneczke was checking the speed of motorists with the radar apparatus when a car driven by Glen Korotjev, 33, 210½ Main St., Neenah, struck the rear of the squad car.

Korotjev received a lacerated lip in the mishap and was taken to Theda Clark Hospital for treatment by Lindy's Ambulance Service.

Damage to the Korotjev car was estimated at $600.

Brillion Man Fined On Conduct Charge

KAUKAUNA — Earl Schultz, 24, Brillion, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and was fined $75 when arraigned before Oscar T. Johns, municipal justice, Monday.

Schultz was arrested after girls complained about him following them in his car, honking his horn and trying to attract their attention.

New Crisis Looms Late in February on Rail Work Rules

Government Again Seeks To Put End to Disagreement

BY W. B. RAGSDALE JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — After a six-month cooling off period and forced settlement of two issues, the railroad work rules dispute appears to be headed for another crisis late next month.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz conceded as much Monday when he announced that the federal government once again is stepping in to try to mediate the dispute, now nearly five years old.

Wirtz, Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds and Chairman Francis A. O'Neil Jr. of the National Mediation Board meet today in closed session with the railroads and five operating brotherhoods.

Wirtz met late Monday with railroad representatives, then the unions, and, finally, with both sides. Later he explained that the talks centered on "making the best use of the time that lies ahead of us."

On Feb. 25 a congressional deadline for settlement of the so-called secondary issues — issues not settled last November by compulsory arbitration — runs out and a nationwide rail strike could begin.

Remaining Issues
The issues involved in the current negotiations include such topics as wage structure, certain road and yard jobs, interdivisional runs, use of self-propelled equipment, night shift differentials, holiday pay and expenses away from home.

Wirtz hedged on any prediction that an agreement could be reached and said he hadn't talked to the negotiators about how much progress they had made in their weeks of bargaining.

There were strong indications earlier from Chicago that progress has been slight.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, told a news conference there would be a nationwide strike unless the railroads relented on their insistence on what he said would mean "severe wage reductions."

Scranton Proposes A Record Budget For Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William Scranton proposed to the 1964 Pennsylvania Legislature today a record annual general fund budget of $1.168 billion, fatter by $59 million but without increased taxes.
"The important thing about this budget 'without-a-tax-increase,'" Scranton told legislators in his budget message on the opening day of their new session, "is that it is no 'stand pat' document. It signals not a fiscal year in which we will merely mark time, but a fiscal year in which we shall continue to build a better Pennsylvania."

Pope Paul Returns To Desk and Work

Reported Working on Encyclical

BY BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI returned to his Vatican desk today after his historic Holy Land pilgrimage and reportedly began work on the first encyclical of his seven-month reign.

The 66-year-old pontiff, who shattered Roman Catholic precedent with his flying pilgrimage to the Bible land, was said to have in mind an entirely new type of encyclical devoted to scientific and technological research.

400th Anniversary

Informants said experts would help draw up the encyclical, timed apparently to coincide with the 400th anniversary this year of the birth of Galileo Galilei, 16th century Italian astronomer and experimental philosopher.

Galileo was condemned by the Roman Catholic hierarchy for his theories on the solar system. Examined by the Inquisition under threat of torture, he recanted and spent the remainder of his life in partial custody.

Past encyclicals have touched on scientific research only in passing. The last, Pope John XXIII's "Pacem in Terris" (peace on earth) last April, cited the potential benefits of science but it dwelt also on disarmament, world peace and a number of other matters.

In the wake of Pope Paul's resounding welcome home by more than a million cheering Romans, his trip continued to generate speculation of more papal travel abroad.

Indian sources said previously the pontiff has accepted an invitation to go to Bombay next fall for an international Eucharistic congress. There also is a long-standing invitation, extended earlier to Pius XII and John XXIII, to visit the shrine of Mary at Lourdes, France.

There also is talk of a trip to Africa, which Pope Paul visited in 1962 while a cardinal.

Wood County Man Enters Plea to Tax Evasion Charge

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A Wood County man pleaded no contest Monday in U.S. District Court to a charge of willful failure to file a 1960 federal income tax return.

Victor Sandman, 61, of Port Edwards, was alleged to have received gross income of $21,998. He is the operator of a Port Edwards pharmacy.

Judge Kenneth P. Grubb dismissed charges that Sandman failed to file income tax returns in 1957, 1958 and 1959.

New Emphasis

Pope's Pilgrimage Has Stressed Church Unity

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI during his pilgrimage to the Holy Land put a new stress on the search for Christian unity, suggesting that his Roman Catholic Church and other churches draw closer in a spirit of understanding while working to achieve a united church.

The 66-year-old pontiff has not put aside his vision of a single Christian church with the bishop of Rome at its head. But two momentous acts of his pilgrimage indicate a willingness to accept a sort of coexistence for the present.

In a moving message from Bethlehem, the Pope committed his church anew to "every possibility by which mutual understanding, respect and charity may be fostered so as to smooth the way to a future — and, please God, not too distant — meeting with our Christian brothers still separated from us."

Later the Pope and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras of Constantinople (Istanbul) told their 600 million followers they must work and pray for a united church.

Clearly Pope Paul was seeking to take the emphasis away from talk of eventual Christian unity, which many religious scholars believe may be centuries away, to talk of closer cooperation now.

3 Elements Three basic elements emerged from his speeches in Palestine: That the "will of Christ is pressing" on all Christians to attain "the supreme blessing and honor of a united church."

That the Roman Catholic Church continues to consider itself the one church "already within the safety of the fold of Christ," and that unity must signify a return of other Christians for whom "the door of the gold is open."

That for the present Roman Catholics and other Christians must have as their objective a desire "that every step toward reunion and interchange of views should be inspired by love of Christ and the church."

Shriver Confers With Jordan's King Hussein

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

SHRIVER: Peace Corps Director R. Sargent Shriver has conferred with King Hussein of Jordan on his Middle Eastern tour, which will also include a meeting with Israel's president.

Shriver, brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy, is carrying personal letters from President Johnson to the heads of state of six countries.

Shriver's 15-minute meeting in Jerusalem Monday with King Hussein came a day after the Peace Corps chief had an audience with visiting Pope Paul VI, at which he presented a letter from Johnson.

In Washington, Johnson told reporters during a White House reception for his staff that he regards Shriver "as one of the most brilliant, most able and most popular officials in government."

Two Persons Living

Animal Organs Used in 4 Human Transplants

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Kidneys from a monkey, a chimpanzee and two baboons have been transplanted in four humans since last October.

Physicians at Tulane University Charity Hospital in New Orleans and the Veterans Administration hospital in Denver who performed the operations have said that without the transplants the four recipients had no chance of survival.

A 32-year-old woman, who was not identified, received the first transplant of a primate's kidneys—a monkey—last October at Tulane. She later died of the disease that prompted the transplant.

Jefferson Davis, 44, a New Orleans dock worker, was believed to have been the second person to undergo such a transplant. He received the kidneys of a chimpanzee Nov. 5.

Davis died Monday at Charity Hospitals in New Orleans.

Dr. Brian McCracken, an internist, said the kidneys were functioning at the time of death. A chest infection followed by pneumonia was listed as the cause of death.

Baboon Kidneys The transplants using the kidneys of baboons were both recorded at Colorado General Hospital. The first occurred Dec. 20 and the recipient was a 40-year-old man who is reported in good condition today.

The second transplant was reported Monday. Spokesmen said a 45-year-old man received two kidneys from a baboon in a 5½-hour operation. His condition was termed satisfactory.

Decision Day in Taylor-Fisher Divorce Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—Today is the day of decision—at least one lawyer predicts—in the divorce battle between Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher.

Lawyers representing the actress, her husband and her lover, actor Richard Burton, are meeting here. They hope to reach a property settlement that will expedite the divorce and the marriage of Miss Taylor and Burton.

Milton Rudin of Los Angeles, lawyer for the actress, said: "I know today is the final day for me. There's nothing more I can say."

Louis Nizer, counsel for Fisher, had no comment.

Also sitting in on the meetings is Aaron Frosch of New York, Burton's attorney.

Rudin and Frosch spent the weekend in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, where Burton and Miss Taylor are living.

Commission to Get Milwaukee County Report on Employees

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The County Civil Service Commission reversed itself Monday and voted to supply the State Industrial Commission with requested racial information on more than 7,000 Milwaukee County employees.

The state group had demanded the details as part of its continuing hearings on employment opportunities for members of minority groups.

The county commission said earlier it did not have the information and would not make a count. However, the commission's chief examiner, Anthony P. Romano, said Monday he had learned late last week that the racial information was contained on fingerprint cards required by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Anti-Castro Group Says It Has Means to Carry War to Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An anti-Castro organization headed by Manuel Artime, 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion leader, said today it "possesses the means to carry to Cuba a freedom war in 1964."

Cesar Baro, second in command of the Revolutionary Recovery Movement, said, "We have found the needed support."

There have been reports that the movement has military units in Central America.

Johnson New Dealer Talking Conservatism, Sen. Goldwater Says

Faces Liability of Kennedy's Programs, Arizonan Charges

BY WALTER B. MEARS

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, keynoting his bid for the White House, has called President Johnson a New Dealer who talks like a conservative and faces the liability of programs inherited from President John F. Kennedy.

"I am going to do everything in my power to return the presidency of the United States to the principles which have made this nation great and which can make it greater," the Arizona senator declared Monday night in his first address as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater said he thinks he already has some 500 of the 655 delegate votes it would take to win him top spot on the GOP ticket at the San Francisco convention next July.

Goldwater made his first campaign speech at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner which originally was scheduled Nov. 23, the day after President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

He got a polite reception in a half-empty hall. Local Republicans explained they admitted only party contributors who bought tickets. They said 879 were sold.

Committed to Party Goldwater said he respects President Johnson but considers him "first of all today a leader bound by the commitments of his party. And in that role I shall do what I can with all the support I can gather. For his party is wrong."

"The President will expound on his inheritance from his predecessor's administration," Goldwater said. "These inherited proposals he must not and he cannot reject—or even materially revise."

"These cannot be listed among President Johnson's assets," Goldwater said. "They are his liabilities."

Sukarno in Manila for 5-Day Visit

MANILA, the Philippines (AP)—Indonesia's President Sukarno arrived in Manila today seeking Philippine support for his campaign against Malaysia.

Sukarno's five-day visit got off to a tardy start. There was an unexplained delay in his flight, and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal waited nearly three hours at Manila International Airport.

Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio blamed the delay on security precautions. He said Sukarno's jet made a stop in central Java, but he offered no explanation.

Death Threat

The Manila Chronicle reported earlier it had received a telephoned death threat against Sukarno. The call resulted in tightened security at the airport. I do not believe in intraparty blood-letting."

While Sukarno has vowed to smash Malaysia, his foreign minister told newsmen the two presidents will try "to find some way out of this impasse."

Although the Philippines refuses to recognize the British-sponsored federation because of its claim on the Malaysian state of Sabah, Macapagal has been trying to steer a middle course between Malaysia and Indonesia in hopes of mediating between them.

Reds Demand Brandt at Any Talks on Wall

Mayor's Personal Attendance Made Part of Conditions

BERLIN (AP) — The East German government is demanding West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's personal participation at the start of any new negotiations to reopen the Communist wall to West Berliners.

The Communist demand appeared to raise a new obstacle to any agreement to renew the Christmas pass arrangement that ended at midnight Jan. 5 after 17 days of visits by West Berliners to relatives in the Soviet sector of the city.

The East German condition was put to Brandt in a letter from Deputy Premier Willi Stoph, an authoritative source disclosed Monday night. It was regarded as part of the Communist regime's continuing campaign to whittle away at the refusal of the Western Allies in Berlin and the West German government to recognize it.

Pressure from West Brandt is under pressure from the Western Allies and his own government to avoid any gestures that could hurt the cause of nonrecognition.

Brandt's city government as well as the Western Allies have stipulated that new negotiations must be held on the same level as the talks that resulted in the previous agreement. Those talks were held between Cultural Affairs Ministers Horst Korber of West Berlin and Erich Wendt of East Germany.

Brandt may reply to the Communist demand when Korber and Wendt meet later this week, sources said.

The two officials met last Saturday, and Stoph's letter to Brandt was handed over at the time. West Berlin also laid down its conditions in a seven-point memorandum, but the East German representative reportedly tore up the paper.

Contents of the West Berlin memorandum were not disclosed.

Johnson Plans to Keep Regular Hours At the White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson says he plans to keep a "pretty regular schedule" in the White House.

He told reporters he usually rises at 6:30 a.m. and goes over official papers for the next two hours. Then, he said, he likes to report to the office at 8:30 or 9.

Johnson added that he swam eight lengths of the White House pool Monday as part of his regimen of exercise, and has been making a practice of swimming before lunch and dinner.

Papermakers Use Blazing Finish to Top Chuters, 79-53

Kimberly Hits 20 Points in Last 6 Minutes, Wins Eighth Straight

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — Frustrated for better than three quarters, the Kimberly High School Papermakers ripped loose for 20 points in the last six minutes of the game to pull away from a scrappy Little Chute St. John quintet for a 79-53 non-conference victory here Monday night.

The triumph was the eighth straight without a defeat for the Papermakers this season. St. John now has an overall mark of 2-6 for the campaign.

The big height advantage Kimberly enjoyed failed to impress the Chuters as they scrapped their way back into striking distance throughout the contest. Time and time again the Papermakers would open up leads of six to 10 points only to have the Dutchmen slice away at the margin and creep to within two to four markers.

Use Six Players

The effect of using only six players and having played a 1-point Fox Valley Catholic Conference game against Oshkosh Lourdes Saturday night began to tell on the under-manned Dutchmen in the final segment. Kimberly took advantage of the opportunity and erupted in a fast break that buried any St. John hopes of an upset.

With Lee Levknecht, Jerry Wyngaard and Dennis Krone leading the way, Kimberly wheeled in 26 points in the final quarter to only eight for the Chuters. St. John managed only two free throws and one basket in the last six minutes of the game. Kimberly had a slim, 55-49 lead before pulling away.

The Dutchmen played a deliberate game in the opening period and took a 3-0 lead on a basket and free throw by Dave Van Vreede. It was not until 4:33 remained in the period that Gordon Zillges scored Kimberly's first field goal to knot the game at 3-1.

With 1:21 left in the opening stanza Kimberly had a 9-7 lead when Levknecht, Wyngaard and Mark Vandehey each connected on a bucket to give the Papermakers a 15-7 advantage as the horn sounded.

Fell Behind
After the Chuters fell behind, 25-8, in the second period, Bruce Hammen began to find the range for St. John. Bill Verhagen hit one from the side and then Hammen followed with six straight points to make it 25-16. The Dutchmen continued to whittle.

FVL Places 4-Game Win Streak on Line Against Shioction '5'

Non-Conference Game Slated Here Tonight

BY HENRY SIMON

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A pair of teams that used the fast break to register wins in their most recent basketball games will meet tonight, as Fox Valley Lutheran plays host to Shioction in a non-conference tussle.

Shioction downed Bear Creek 52-44 for its first win of the season in Little Nine action Dec. 19 using the "quick bucket" combined with ball stealing. FVL, defending co-champion of the Badger Lutheran Conference, crushed 1962-63 Little Nine co-titlist Hilbert, 89-74, last Tuesday, with a ball-hawking press and a potent fast break.

The season records of the two teams are almost exactly opposite. Shioction lost five straight before downing Bear Creek.

FVL has a 4-game winning streak going, and owns a 6-2 record. The Foxes have played .667 ball versus Little Nine clubs, losing to Winneconne and downing Freedom in addition to their win over Hilbert.

294 Points

The two teams have faced a pair of common foes, both of which fell to Fox Valley Lutheran and beat the Chiefs. FVL crushed Stockbridge, 92-44, while the Indians nipped Shioction, 106-63.

Fox Valley Lutheran has also downed Little Chute St. John, Winnebago Lutheran and Northwestern Prep, while falling to Manawa.

Marion, Denmark, and Hortonville are the other squads that have defeated Shioction.

Signs Contract With State for Two Seasons

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Despite a blistering attack on his plan from other American League club owners, Charles O. Finley said today he is certain he will be permitted to transfer the Athletics from Kansas City to Louisville.

Finley said he would accept Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's invitation and would go before the Kentucky General Assembly at its opening session today in Frankfort "not to plead but to ask for their (the lawmakers) support."

"I think—no, I'm confident—the fans here will give as much support, if not more, to major league baseball as those in Kansas City," said the Athletics' owner, putting the emphasis on the confident.

Finley said he was looking forward to the Jan. 16 meeting of the club owners — knowing that three negative votes would defeat his plan.

Not Concerned
"I'm not concerned about how many votes it takes to knock something out," he said.

"I'm confident after I have met with them and explained my problems, there will be no difficulty in getting the votes needed."

Finley signed a contract with the State of Kentucky Monday to bring the Athletics to Louisville for the 1964 and 1965 seasons. The signing in Frankfort raised the ire of several of the American League club owners.

Under the pact with the state, the Athletics would play at the State Fairgrounds at Louisville. The state would get five per cent of net gate proceeds and 7½ per cent of gross concession funds.

Finley said nothing was definite at the end of the two-year period about moving to other cities. The Athletics' owner and Kansas City officials have deadlocked over a new contract for lease of a stadium.

Surging Vikes Prepare For Saturday Night's Invasion by Ripon

The Lawrence College basketball team will have little chance to savor a rare weekend achievement—a sweep of its 2-face of the Vikings' new head game road series against Carleton and St. Olaf.

The Clyde Rusk-coached Vikes have begun preparing for Saturday night's invasion by Ripon's Midwest Conference-leading Redmen. It looms as the toughest home assignment of the season for the Vikes.

In sweeping their week-end pair at Northfield, Minn., the 1963-64 Vikes became the first Lawrence team in 21 years to capture two successive conference wins on the road. It also evened the Vikings' MC record at 2-2 and pushed their overall mark to 4-3.

Easy Victories

Ripon's great rebounding strength and scoring balance brought them easy victories over the same two Northfield opponents last weekend. A front line, which includes Gary Mevins and Willie Alexander, and a backcourt combination of Jack Anderson and Jim Cahoon are outstanding. Ripon, 4-0 in the conference, lost only to Luther College in a non-league tournament game.

Rusk was very pleased with the Vikings' "team effort and dedication to win" in the Northfield series. "They kept the fire in the poise at several very crucial points," he said.

The critical spots Rusk referred to came in the second half of each game. The Vikes came wheeling on strong at the end Friday night to stop the Carls, 69-65. Then, after trailing, 30-22, at half-time, a tired Viking squad dedicated themselves to victory and took a 59-52 decision over St. Olaf.

Takes Charge

One of the most pleasing aspects of the two games was the way Captain Joel Ungrodt took charge in the critical moments. The best example was at St. Olaf. After being held to a free throw in the first half, the league's leading scorer rebounded with 18 in the second half, enough to inspire his teammates in the comeback.

Coach Rusk was quick to point out the fine play of his newest starter, Gordon Bond; his key rebounder, Earl Hoover and his central reserve, Luke Groser.

Bond's alert, aggressive play, Groser's fine second half rebounding at Carleton and Hoover's consistency and defensive play all brought smiles to the face of the Vikings' new head mentor.

Ungrodt, Bond and Steve Nault will probably be the outside starters Saturday in Rusk's 3-2 offensive pattern. Hoover and sophomore Tom Steinmetz will start underneath.

Lawrence's freshman team will meet the Ripon freshman in the 6 p.m. preliminary. The varsity tip-off is at 7:30.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Wisconsin shared the Big Ten basketball cellar after losing to Michigan State 106-90, Monday night as the Badgers might be a long time getting out unless their shooting accuracy improves.

The Badgers fired a record 113 shots and made only 35 for a dismal 31 percent in suffering their second straight conference defeat.

The Spartans scorched the nets in an early second half burst to break away after holding a 50-44 halftime advantage before a jammed field house crowd of 10,231.

State hit nine of its first ten shots after the intermission and ran up a 23-point lead before the scrambling Badgers narrowed the gap in the waning minutes. The Spartans, in evening their conference mark at 1-1, hit 48 per cent from the floor.

Senior forward Pete Gent paced the Spartan attack with 25 points while reserve Bob Johnson topped Wisconsin with 14.

Wisconsin coach John Erickson used 13 players in an effort to find a hot shooter but outside of brief flurries the Badgers never reached the blistering pace displayed in winning the Milwaukee Classic Tournament in December.

Starting forwards Ken Gustafson and Dave Roberts, both sophomores, tallied 12 points apiece for Wisconsin while senior guards Mike O'Melia and Don Hearden hit 8 and 7, respectively.

Wisconsin's 113 shooting attempts eclipsed the Big Ten mark of 108 by Illinois in 1950.

CLINICAL PROGRESS REPORT:

New advance in home treatment for HEMORRHOIDS

Doctors report "results good to excellent" for 5 of every 6 patients with new formula that provides more complete, longer-lasting relief!

Hemorrhoid sufferers by the thousands are turning to new M.P.O.—the advanced discovery that brings faster relief from pain, itch and swelling. Here's why:

Relief starts in seconds—M.P.O. contains more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients than the preparation you may now be using. And M.P.O. is homogenized for faster absorption of its relief-bringing medication. The instant you apply M.P.O., its anesthetic (Benzocaine) and vasoconstrictor (Epinephrine Sulfate) start to work to relieve pain, stop embarrassing itching and promote shrinking.

Relief lasts longer—Because M.P.O.'s formula has an exclusive stabilized base, the medication is concentrated on the inflamed tissue to keep on working. It also includes Hexachlorophene, the famous germ killer, to relieve bacteria-caused itching, fight possible infection.

M.P.O. is available at all drug counters in ointment or suppository form. Satisfaction guaranteed, or money back. Get M.P.O. today!

Indiana Penalty Relaxed Iowa Placed on Year's Probation By NCAA for Several Violations

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association still is cracking the whip but some of the sting is gone.

"It's not that we're getting soft," Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said today. "Most of these sanctions end this year after chiding five institutions for recruiting violations and relaxing sanctions against a sixth."

"It's just that the colleges are behaving better—we are having fewer and fewer major abuses."

The University of Iowa and little Centenary College of Shreveport, La., each drew a one-year probation. Alabama and Houston were officially reprimanded, and Washington State got off lightest of all—a word of caution.

At the same time, Indiana University, under a four-year probationary penalty, had its sanctions relaxed so that Indiana athletes might compete in events pointing to the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo.

Leniency Mood

Leniency was the mood of the feared NCAA council, sports policy-making body of some 600 colleges and universities, in disclosing punishment for those members who had not adhered strictly to the rules.

Besides Indiana, New Mexico State, Hardin-Simmons, Dayton and Colorado are major universities which have been slapped with sanctions in recent years.

The University of Iowa was found guilty of the largest number of transgressions—enough to

2. A basketball player, holding an off-campus job, received a $75 advance from his employer

Bowling in Jet Plane Doesn't Work Too Well

BY FRANCIS STILLEY
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—It isn't easy to go bowling in a jet plane at 25,000 feet and 500 miles an hour.
The clouds keep getting in your way. They bump, and no matter what you think the balls do, they don't.
Two national bowling champions found that out Monday. They tried the first—and with-out doubt the last—flying bowling alley in history.
It was a full-sized alley set up on a new jet cargo plane. It was complete with an automatic pin-setting machine, side channels to keep stray balls from going off through... well, er...

Paul Harney's 280 Wins at Los Angeles

Captures Biggest Victory in Nine Years on Circuit

BY BOB MYERS
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Golfers Paul Harney, who thought he'd never win another tournament until he captured the $50,000 Los Angeles Open, is a fellow who thinks tournament golf is for the birds — and he doesn't mean birdies.
Harney headed for his adopted home at Sunset Oaks near Sacramento, Calif. Tuesday, richer by $7,500 for his biggest victory after nine years on the tournament circuit.
The 34-year-old product of Worcester, Mass., shot an even par 71 for a 72-hole total of 280, four strokes under par for the distance, leaving behind the celebrated Arnold Palmer, U.S. Open champion Julius Boros and a few others who kept yipping at his heels but could never quite catch him in the final round.
Bobby Nichols was second, with a 71 for 281. Palmer, who could never get any closer than two shots of the front runner Monday afternoon, finished in a four-way tie for third at 282.
Palmer had a 70, his third and his lowest score of the tournament. Tied with Palmer were Bob Goaly, 67; Don Finsterwald, 78; and Al Geiberger, 70.
Dave Marr, with a 68, and Tommy Jacobs, 70, finished with 283, while Boros rallied with a 68 and a tie at 285.

Finley Called 'Fool' by Owner Of White Sox

he couldn't speak for the owners but offered his personal opinion.
"I doubt if the American League owners would like to make a checkerboard out of an American League franchise," Cronin previously said he and the owners opposed any "stop gap measures." Any move would have to have permanency, he explained.
Other officials were quick to comment on Finley's action.
General Manager George Sil-kirk of Washington said, "I feel that the people of Kansas City perhaps deserve a better fate than they appear to be receiving at the present time."
Ridiculous Remark
"Move to Louisville!" declared co-owner Del Webb of New York. "I'll make this ridiculous remark. If he's going to move to Louisville, he should take Happy Chandler as a partner."
Lee Mac Phail, president and general manager of Baltimore, commented:
"As far as we are concerned, unless we are convinced that the city of Kansas City is being unfair insofar as the lease is concerned, we would be opposed to the moving."

Charles Finley

Timing may influence Minnesota Owner Calvin Griffith's decision. He said he's always felt changes should be approved if an owner can't get along in a city. But, he added, he has reservations about favoring a move after the first of the year.
Detroit General Manager Jim Campbell declined comment but a Tigers spokesman said earlier the team traditionally has been opposed to franchise shifts. The spokesman didn't comment, though, on the club's current attitude.
Decline Comment
Cleveland and Los Angeles officials declined comment while Boston Owner Tom Yawkey could not be reached.
However, a Red Sox official, who declined to be identified, said the club is "definitely opposed."
The consensus of the officials' comments seems to support the belief of Kansas City Mayor R. L. Davis who said:
"I think we have an excellent case to present to the meeting for the retention of baseball in Kansas City. We will present it with full force. We will go all out."

Vanderbilt Hands Kentucky Second Straight Defeat

Wildcats Lose 85-83 in Final Seconds; Kansas State Falls

BY HAL BOCK
It's a long slide from the No. 1 Michigan State clouted Wisconsin college basketball ranking in sin 106-90, Nebraska dumped the country to the bottom of the Iowa State 55-52, Oklahoma Southeastern Conference but State outscored Kansas 64-48. Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wild-cats have completed the trip in less than a week.
Kentucky led the country in last week's Associated Press poll. Then the Wildcats ran into their first conference foe, Georgia Tech. The Engineers demolished the Wildcats and the loss dropped Kentucky to No. 2 in this week's poll. Monday night it was Vanderbilt and today the Wildcats find themselves peeling out of the conference basement with an 0-2 record.
John Ed Miller was the star in an 85-83 thriller. His last second jump from 30 feet out won it. Roger Schurig led Vandy with 22 and Miller added 13. Terry Gibson's 19 topped the losers.

Battle of Titans
The game had been billed as a battle of SEC titans but instead it was a struggle to escape the conference cellar. Vanderbilt's opening league loss to Tennessee had left it tied with Kentucky in the basement but now the Wildcats are all alone. Well, almost alone. Kentucky does have some company. Tulane shares last place after dropping its 11th straight game, 87-83 to Georgia. Chances are Kentucky will break its cellar lease before its co-tenants do.
In other college conference play another pre-season favorite ran into trouble. Kansas State, a Big Eight power, ran up a 14-point edge on Colorado with less than 12 minutes to play. Then suddenly lost the range and eventually the game, 60-59.
Utah State handed Utah its second loss in thirteen starts, 84-72 in a nonconference clash. There were plenty of points in the Xavier of Ohio-Detroit game with Xavier winning 121-113.
South Carolina shot 60 per cent from the field and handed Maryland its first Atlantic Coast Conference setback 76-69. Texas Western grabbed a 77-72 decision over Arizona State. In other major games, North-

Howie Rehfeldt Pounds 633 For Lutheran Loop Honors

Monday night was Keith Gehring's night again. Keith added to his 1963-64 season laurels by leading both the Builder's and Brotherhood league's at Hahn's Lanes. His Builder's loop counts included games of 245 and 247 along with a 686 series.

The 686 is the ninth best series recorded on local lanes this season and Gehring has five of those nine top counts in the Brotherhood League. Gehring set the pace with a 588 series.

Larry Lenz came in for a share of individual honors in the Builder's League when he

Chunky Walleyes on the Ice. This picture is repeated day after day on Lake Winnebago as thousands of ice fishermen take to the lake in hopes of a good catch of pike. The ice auger in the background is a handy item on the Big Lake since often it is necessary to move about to locate the fish. Minnows and jigging lures have proved to be the best bait so far this winter. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Limit Catches Still Being Taken But Not So Often

Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

Lake Winnebago still has an abnormal abundance of walleye and sauger or sand pike but these tasty morsels of the 20-foot depths are becoming a little more crafty and choosy.

Many fishermen are bringing limit catches of the pike along with some perch and white bass off the lake but equally as many are coming back with only a few fish and sometimes none at all.

Four Miles Out Sunday We Went Out From

Farro Springs and were out a good four miles on the lake. Some fishermen around us caught pike but by and large the action was slow. We fished through the afternoon hours and left the lake about 4 p.m. Things might have picked up later but the youngsters had had their fill of fresh air, skating and sledding and wanted to get home.

The third quarter was another see-saw exchange with Kimberly scoring 20 markers to 18 for St. John. Hammen had four buckets in the frame and Levknecht paced Kimberly with three. The Chuters trailed by two points at 37-35 and 39-37 but a spurt by Kimberly boosted the margin back up to 45-37.

With less than a minute left in the third quarter Kimberly had a 49-45 advantage when Weyngaard and Levknecht each hit a field goal to make it 53-45. The closest Dutchmen got in the final quarter was at 55-49. Then the Papermakers hit nine straight field goals while the Chuters were held to a pair of free throws.

Levknecht had 21 points and Weyngaard 20 for the Papermakers while Hammen led the Chuters' attack with 19.

Bobcats Meet Michigan Tech

Play Non-Loop Contest at Home Tonight

GREEN BAY — Green Bay's Bobcats, back in first place after a pair of spectacular weekend victories over Waterloo, venture outside the United States Hockey League tonight for the only time this season when they entertain the Michigan Tech Huskies of the Western Collegiate Hockey Association at the Brown County Arena.

The opening faceoff is set for 8 p.m.

Michigan Tech, 1962 NCAA champion and annually one of the nation's collegiate hockey powers, will ice a lineup featuring two All-Americans, Capt. George Hill and goalie Gary Bauman.

The Bobcats, who return to league action against Rochester here Saturday night in the opener of a 2-game series, will be shooting for a fourth straight victory. They go into action with an 8-4 record, while Tech has a 1-3 mark.

3. A group of basketball players visiting the campus were given uniforms and permitted to practice with members of the university team, at times in presence of the coaches.

Contacted Player

4. A football player was contacted at another institution without Iowa first contacting the athletic director of the other school.

The council frowned on these acts but said, like a forgiving parent, that they "did not reflect any pattern and disregard for the governing rules of the association."

Centenary was accused of transporting prospective basketball players to the campus and back in a private company airplane in violation of the sanity code.

"It happened more than once," Byers said, but added that the school authorities had been most penitent and cooperative in the investigations.

NCAA Blows Own Horn For Athletes

Americans Better in Sports Formerly Soviet Dominated

NEW YORK (AP)—Thanks to a push from the colleges, American athletes are getting better in sports normally dominated by the Soviet Union and countries behind the iron curtain.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association, in a loud blast of its own horn, said as much Monday in disclosing its role in national physical fitness and development of Olympic teams.

According to the report, there are 43.7 per cent more college boys playing soccer, 31.2 per cent more in wrestling, 33 per cent more in cross country and 20.3 per cent more in gymnastics than five years ago.

Tom Hamilton, commissioner of the Athletic Association of Western Colleges and chairman of the College Committee on Youth Fitness, announced these findings in the result of a five-year survey.

Much Fitter

Our college men are much fitter, or at least should be, the survey emphasized.

The report showed a total of 143,778 students in the NCAA engaged in intercollegiate competition in 32 different sports. Intramural competition takes in 1,160,843 students and 59 sports.

There are 685 recreational clubs with direct ties to NCAA institutions providing 55 physical activities for 33,543 students.

These don't include, Hamilton said, 1,525 basketball courts, 965 handball courts, 902 football fields, 1,849 softball fields, 4,845 tennis courts and 825 gymnasiums.

Wilt and 'Big O' Dominate Major NBA Statistics

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Basketball Association season reached its midpoint last weekend with Boston and Los Angeles in their customary top spots in the divisional races and a pair of familiar gents dividing individual honors.

Wilt Chamberlain, who's been pouring in the points again after a short-lived stint as a supporting actor in the San Francisco Warriors' offensive show, and Oscar Robertson, the Cincinnati Royals' ace-of-all-trades, dominate the NBA's five major statistical departments announced today.

Chamberlain leads in scoring, field goal percentage and rebounding while the Big O. second in scoring, is No. 1 in free throw accuracy and assists.

In fact there was doubt that Amonti would be approved as an opponent. In 1961 he had been involved in an auto accident in which a woman was killed. At the trial the boxer reportedly told the judge he lost his eyesight for an instant just before the accident. The judge recommended that his driver's license be revoked and a new hearing is pending. However, the European Boxing Union approved the Italian as an opponent for the ex-champ.

Rabinovitz Takes Oath After Johnson Names Him Judge

Interim Appointment Puts Him On Bench; Senate Action Later

WASHINGTON (AP)—David Rabinovitz, a well-known labor attorney from Sheboygan, Wis., whose nomination to a federal judgeship by the late President Kennedy was blocked, was given an interim appointment today by President Johnson.

Rabinovitz received the recess appointment and was sworn in by telephone shortly before the U. S. Senate convened. He will be permitted to serve as U. S. District Judge for Wisconsin's western district until the Senate acts on President Johnson's nomination.

Takes Oath At Once
Presidential aide Walter Jenkins telephoned Rabinovitz shortly before noon, Washington time. Reached while arguing a case before Miss Emily Dodge, an examiner for the State Industrial Commission, in Sheboygan, Rabinovitz was administered the oath immediately.

Miss Dodge, a notary public, then heard Rabinovitz repeat the oath as the race with the clock was beaten. Rabinovitz had to be sworn in before the Senate convened at noon, 11 a.m., Wisconsin time.

"All I can say is there is much work to be done," Rabinovitz said. "I will go to Madison and start immediately. I will do my best to facilitate and expedite the calendar."

Center of Controversy
Rabinovitz, a Democratic national committeeman, originally was nominated by President Kennedy to fill the U. S. District Court vacancy caused by the death of Judge Patrick T. Stone of Wausau last January.

The nomination touched off a controversy. The Wisconsin State Bar conducted a poll of members and a majority who responded held that Rabinovitz was not qualified for the post. Hearings later were held in Washington, but action was deferred and the Kennedy nomination.

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—Three Peace Corps geologists were injured, one seriously, Monday when their jeep and a timber train collided at a crossing.

He was flown in a Ghana Army helicopter to Accra Military Hospital where his condition was described as "not critical."

Donald S. Marszalke, 25, of Chicago, and Phillip U. Burdette, Rittman, Ohio, suffered facial bruises and cuts. They were not hospitalized.

Democrats Hail Address Scheduled Tuesday; War On Poverty Seen as Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 86th Congress opened its second session today under the multi-ple pressures of a campaign year, a new administration striking out on new paths, and a mountainous backlog of unfinished business.

A few hours before the gavels banged in the House and Senate chambers, President Johnson went over with Democratic leaders from the Capitol his first state of the union message, a communication he will deliver in person at a joint session at noon Wednesday.

The party chiefs were close-mouthed on details after their weekly breakfast session at the White House, but agreed the message is "excellent" and "quite to the point."

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said he thinks the American people will respond most favorably. There was informed speculation that the message will contain proposals for a many-pronged attack on poverty through specialized education and other measures.

The new chief executive pledged himself during his work-and-play Christmas holiday in Texas to give high priority to a drive in that direction. Holds Down Budget
Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen at the White House that the message is "quite to the point in the interest of the American people domestically speaking."

Democratic Senate Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen the message is "quite to the point in the interest of the American people domestically speaking."

Mansfield also said Johnson still is trying to keep the budget for the next fiscal year under $100 billion. Earlier Mansfield had said that despite strenuous efforts to hold the over-all budget under

First Lady to Visit Jobless Regions at Pennsylvania Mines

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson flies Saturday to the hard coal country of Pennsylvania to give a speech and to see how Uncle Sam is helping miners and towns struck by unemployment.

The First Lady delivers her brief address at the dedication of a new research center at Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, built with the aid of federal funds.

The research center, operated on a grant from the Ford Foundation, determines a community's training needs to attract new industries to the pinched anthracite area and thus provide new jobs.

Mrs. Johnson made a similar excursion into depressed areas of West Virginia last spring when her husband was vice president to call attention to the work of the Area Redevelopment Administration.

High Blood Pressure Forces Nehru to Rest

BHUBANESWAR, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru, 74, was confined to bed today with high blood pressure. He has been advised to rest for two weeks.

An official statement said there is no cause for anxiety. The announcement followed cancellation of all Nehru's public engagements at the annual meeting here of the ruling Congress party.

Since suffering a urinary tract infection in 1962, Nehru's vitality has not been what it was.

Beside heading the government, Nehru also is foreign minister and kingpin of the Congress party.

Madison Newspaper Alleges New Yorker Pledged Delegates

A report that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York has been promised a substantial number of Wisconsin delegates in return for staying out of the state's presidential primary on April 7 was branded "absolutely incorrect" today by Talbot Peterson, Appleton, state GOP chairman.

Referring to a story in Monday night's Madison Capital Times, Peterson said "there's not a grain of truth in the whole matter."

He said "delegates will be selected on the basis of non-commitment to any presidential candidate. We will not attempt to achieve a balance between any of the candidates."

"Those delegates selected will be committed to John Byrnes only and uncommitted in every sense of the word as far as anyone else is concerned."

Peterson Monday announced that Byrnes, Republican congressman from Green Bay, will head a slate of uncommitted delegates in the spring primary provided no other major candidate enters the race.

Criticize Reynolds
Peterson and Warren Knowles, New Richmond, Republican candidate for governor, both took potshots today at Gov. John Reynolds for his involvement in Republican internal politics.

Knowles told the Post-Crescent that "Gov. Reynolds is strictly politically motivated. He might well spend his time mending his own fences. He has enough problems in the gubernatorial area without interfering with the presidential primary."

Peterson said "the Republican Party is no longer taking advice from the Democratic Party in the conduct of its affairs."

"Also," Peterson said, "I would suggest that if Gov. Reynolds is so eager to have a primary contest, he invite Sen. Hubert Humphrey (of Minnesota), Bobby (U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert) Kennedy and Adlai Stevenson into the Democratic primary with President Johnson."

"Based on past performances, in such a contest Lyndon Johnson would come out last in Wisconsin."

Express Approval
Knowles, as well as the Wisconsin House delegation expressed satisfaction and pleasure over the announced decision of Byrnes to run as the state's

U. S. Expected to Send Surplus Foods to ROK

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—South Korean government sources reported today that the United States has tentatively agreed to ship 400,000 tons of American farm surpluses to South Korea as the initial shipment under the 1964 surplus farm commodities program.

Fight Any Shift Of Foreign Aid

Rumors Hint Effort To Put Some Funds In Defense Budget

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any attempt by the Johnson administration to shift some foreign aid items to the Defense Department's budget is certain to encounter strong and probably effective opposition in the House Appropriations Committee.

Unconfirmed reports that such a move would be made by the administration have been current for weeks in congressional circles.

They have come to the attention of Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., who heads an appropriations subcommittee which had handled all foreign aid funds for years and who has led the fight to cut foreign spending.

"Not on Solid Ground"
"There is some indication," Passman said in an interview, "that they are going to try to scatter foreign aid funds all over the new budget. They are not going to get away with it. This is simply an indication that the requests for new funds are not on solid ground."

Passman warned that "the new team in the executive branch may have to learn the hard way that it is not easy to hide the foreign aid total from Congress."

"Wherever they put it, we will find it and cut out the fat," he added. Efforts in the past to shift the military part of the aid program to the defense budget have failed, largely because Chairman Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., of the Appropriations Committee has insisted that the entire aid budget be handled in one bill drafted by one subcommittee—headed by Passman.

Cannon has arbitrary power to determine how the over-all federal budget shall be parceled out among his 15 subcommittees.

Outagamie Administrative Operations, Wages, Employee Classifications Included

BY RAY PY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A survey of Outagamie County administrative operations as well as a survey on wage and job classification of employees may be undertaken sometime this year if a Chicago efficiency consulting firm's proposal is favored by board supervisors.

Steven Langer, representing J. L. Jacobs and Co., Chicago, met today with members of the county's executive committee and the civil service and salary committee. Langer did not estimate the cost of the surveys or how or when they could begin.

Committee members learned that the consulting firm could provide only a wage and job classification survey, but recommended that the entire package include administrative survey.

From the administrative survey, the efficiency firm could make recommendations to include electronic data processing, centers or service centers, job realignments, transfers of employees for more efficient operations, and the discontinuance of formation of certain jobs.

The survey to study job and wage classification would probe the realignment of current salaries without making recommendations for more efficient "Often times we find," Langer said, "that the administrative changes we recommend actually pay for the increases in salary and other wage adjustments we recommend."

Civil service and salary committee Chairman John Schreiter told committee members Langer's proposal will be presented to the county board "sometime before April." Schreiter's committee had been asked to study a possible efficiency survey proposal and report to the county board in April.

Schreiter said he favored a wage and reclassification survey "at this time," but County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer warned that "such a survey will solve a few, but not all of our problems."

Langer said he would resubmit his proposals to include cost of a complete package survey.

Langer, whose firm has conducted similar surveys and made recommendations for the municipal governments of Los Angeles, Boston, Springfield, Ill., Peoria, Ill., and Ann Arbor, Mich., among others, said his firm provides continued maintenance of the recommendations and does followup work to see that the changes, once approved,

Retired Chilton Painter Dies of Strangulation

Walter Schwanke Choked on Food, Authorities Say

CHILTON—A 68-year-old retired painter was found dead in his Reed Street apartment at about 10:30 a.m. Monday.

Walter Schwanke, a Chilton resident for many years, was found dead of apparent strangulation after presumably choking on a piece of meat. J. E. Sohrwide and Frank Fox, both of Chilton, found the body.

Calumet County Coroner Leroy Hughes, listed the cause of death as unnatural. Following an autopsy late Monday Hughes said Schwanke choked on a large piece of meat. The choking apparently was brought on by a coughing spell. Hughes said.

Hughes set the time of death at Friday evening. Other tests will be conducted at the pathology laboratory in Sheboygan. These tests, Hughes said, will be done as a matter of routine.

No Noise

Sohrwide, a Chilton insurance salesman, had called on Fox at his home at 209 Reed St., and Fox asked him if he would help him get into Schwanke's apartment because he had heard no noise for two days. Schwanke had rented a room in Fox's home.

The pair told Chilton Police they had to take a door off the hinges in order to enter Schwanke's small living quarters.

They told police there were eggs in a pan on the gas stove with the flame still burning.

Schwanke reportedly worked part time for a Chilton bakery, cleaning up on Sunday mornings.

He was born in the Town of Rantoul. Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Elmer Wenzel, 139 MacArthur St., Brillion.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

States' Revenues Will Increase With Tax Cut

BY SYLVIA PORTER

"What's the use of the tax cut? It'll only invite the states and cities to leap in, raise their taxes and take the cut all back for themselves. We'll be no better off in the end. Who's kidding whom?"

Surely you have heard a variation of this said during the prolonged congressional debate over the $11 billion federal income tax cut, and you well may have said it yourself. What I've quoted above are the precise remarks of a highly intelligent man at a recent dinner party and the group around us nodded in resigned, cynical agreement.

But persuasive though the argument sounds, it is an upside-down viewpoint of the impact that the 1964-65 tax reductions will have on your state and local taxes. Here are the facts and figures to put the story straight in your mind.

State Revenue

(1) The federal tax cuts actually will INCREASE the tax take of our state and local governments by billions of dollars a year — without any change in current state and local tax rates or the introduction of any new taxes.

It will do so because the tax reductions will stimulate business and consumer spending, and thus the state and local governments will collect more from the taxes they now impose on business and consumer spending. For instance, as consumers spend more for goods, sales taxes on the goods will bring in extra revenue to the local governments. As business invest more in plants and properties, the various types of business and property taxes will bring in extra revenue to the local governments.

In the 16 states which allow deduction of federal income taxes in computation of state income taxes, the benefits to the states will be direct. The reason is you'll have more income left after you've taken your deductions for the states to tax at their current rates.

Joint Study

An official study by the Treasury for Congress' Joint Economic Committee estimates that when the tax cut is fully effective in 1965 it will hike state revenues $1.5 billion and local government revenues $1.4 billion — a hefty total of $2.9 billion a year.

The Treasury figures that, with no change in rates or new taxes, New York will gain $410 million a year; California will gain $404 million a year; Illinois will gain $161 million; Michigan $158 million.

(2) Due to the relentlessly rising demands of our exploding population for schools, roads, water and sanitation facilities, police and fire protection, etc., state and local government taxes are going up year after year. They will go up with a federal income tax cut, they will go up and the group around us nodded without a federal income tax cut.

The federal income tax cut will be offset by the state-local tax increases only to the extent that the state-local tax boosts would not have occurred in the absence of a federal tax cut and to the extent that the tax boosts are not matched by increases in state-local government spending.

With taxpayers across the nation protesting sharply against state-local tax hikes and simultaneously demanding increased services, the chances of this combination are mighty slim.

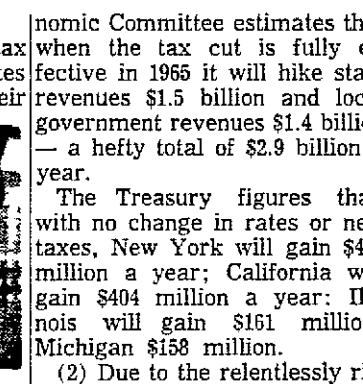

Spur Economy

(3) When state and local governments spend money on such projects as roads, hospitals, schools, etc., they too spur the economy and help create jobs, profits and paychecks.

The overall impact on the economy IS THE SAME whether you spend $1,000 on steel to build a house or a businessman spends $1,000 on steel to build a mill or a local government spends $1,000 on steel to build a bridge. The key point which underlines the distortion in comment, "We'll be no better off," is that the state-local tax money is spent to accelerate the economy.

Throughout all 1963's talks about tax cuts, what we got were increases in our social security, state and local taxes. Now at last we are to get a federal income tax cut. This will spur the economy. It will raise the total of incomes on which states and cities collect taxes.

The answer to "Who's kidding whom?" is that, without a

Proposal Being Studied

County Jail May Contract Caterer

BY RAY PY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Will prisoners in the Outagamie County jail be catered to in the future?

Quite possibly, if a county board committee of supervisors studying a plan to have food catered into the county jail comes up with a favorable program.

The study is being conducted by the county's courts and administration committee to determine if catering will be less expensive than the present plan for feeding prisoners.

Supv. Glenn Pelton (Appleton-12th) said a tentative survey has shown caterers could provide the food service for a cost of 65 cents per meal, but, Pelton said, indications are that the price could be 15 cents cheaper.

Current Cost
The prisoners currently are being fed at a cost of 60 cents per meal, from the jail kitchen.

Pelton said Sheriff Calvin Spice, who has charge of the feeding program "has not been notified of the study," but will be contacted to participate in it. Pelton said if the sheriff has objections to the program, "it may be that the program could be put in effect during some future administration." Pelton said the study also will explore the possibility of having laundry service on a carry-out and delivery basis.

A defective kitchen stove and a forced reduction in the hours a kitchen matron must work has brought about the catering idea, Pelton said.

The stove has been condemned by jail inspectors. Pelton said the gas leak in the stove is repaired temporarily but must be checked at least once every 10 days. The matron working in the kitchen has been ordered by a doctor to work less than her 12 hours daily.

No Kitchen Matron
Caterers would eliminate the need for a kitchen matron and the matron would have to be on duty only when a woman prisoner was confined in the county jail, Pelton said.

Pelton and others of his committee met with Alvin Fulcer, county board chairman and members of the executive committee to discuss the study. Pelton said he felt the executive committee should be told of the study because the study is proposing something that is against tradition in the county. The committee said it would inquire if any counties in the state are using the catering program.

Fulcer told the committee the defective stove in the jail should be replaced as soon as possible, even during the course of the study. Fulcer declined the committee's request that county business administrator Alvin Woehler be in charge of the catering study and report his findings to the courts and administration committee.

Wage Resolution Asks Added 4 Per Cent Hike

Outagamie Personnel Committee Prepares
Cost of Living Increase Recommendation

A resolution being prepared by the Outagamie County personnel committee will ask that certain county employees be granted a 7 per cent cost-of-living raise instead of the 3 per cent which went into effect Wednesday.

The resolution is the result of a public hearing Dec. 11 in which the personnel committee met with the courthouse employees association to hear a petition for a 10 per cent salary hike in place of the 3 per cent increase.

Benefits Committee Chairman Courtney Schwartz said the resolution for the 7 per cent increase is considered a major victory for the employees association. The proposal must still be voted by county board supervisors Tuesday, Jan. 14.

Schwartz said that the association's request was that employees be given a "stopgap" salary increase during the period that the county board members are studying possible salary and wage adjustments.

3 Per Cent Increase
Employees received a 3 per cent wage increase this year and were slated for a 4 per cent jump in January, 1965.

Glenn Pelton, chairman of the personnel committee, told members of the county's executive committee the 7 per cent increase "would put us in a favorable position to buy help and compete with private industry at the present time."

The increase is set on the true base salary of each employee as of Jan. 1, 1958, Pelton said. The increases, if approved, will cost the county approximately $58,000, and would be about $20,000 more than the 3 per cent increase.

Not included in the resolution are salary hikes for elective officers, appointive officers, judges, court reporters and employees of the welfare department.

A six-man jury returned the verdict.

The Byrnes Decision

Representative John Byrnes' decision to accept a favorite son candidacy in the Wisconsin presidential primary providing principal candidates do not run here clarifies the picture for the April voting. There undoubtedly will also be a favorite son campaign in the Democratic primary pledged to President Johnson. Governor Reynolds is anxious to tie his own campaign to that of the President and the favorite-son device would be a logical way of doing so.

From the Republican party's point of view the plan has many advantages. It has taken state Republicans a long time to heal the wounds of the Taft-Eisenhower primary battle in 1952. An out-and-out conservative-liberal split again this year would undoubtedly be a real handicap to the party in preparing for the fall elections.

There is also the point that the entire Republican picture is yet so muddled that a Wisconsin delegation pledged to a candidate who is a front-runner in April might find itself supporting a man who was out of the running by convention time. And since Wisconsin votes at the tail end at the convention, the favorite son device will increase the state delegation's leverage.

The Democrats have charged and will continue to make the point that through this device the Republican party is denying to the people of Wisconsin a chance to voice their opinion on current presidential candidates. But the practical side of the matter is that up to now none of these candidates has appeared willing to test his strength in the early Wisconsin primary.

The situation also serves to point up the weakness in the Wisconsin open primary system. Republicans were fearful that if President Johnson or a designated favorite son were the only candidate in the Democratic primary, and there was a contest on the Republican ballot, many Democrats would cross over to influence the Republican choice.

We are happy with Byrnes' decision from another point of view. It demonstrates that he has gotten over any feeling of embarrassment he may have had from the MGIC affair. The Congressman obviously is going to take a vigorous role in the Republican campaign in Wisconsin this year. The Republicans need his leadership.

Valley Farmers Lead

Figures recently released by the University of Wisconsin and the Fox Valley Farm Management Association show the average Valley farmer spends more, makes more and has more invested in his operation than the average Wisconsin farmer.

This was no surprise to us, and it should not be a surprise to anyone else who has ridden through the countryside of the area.

The Soviet Nonaggression Proposal

The Soviet government's proposal for the nations of the world to renounce force as a means of settling border or territorial disputes is patently the old Russian effort to appear as the messenger of peace in the world. The basic flaw in the proposal aside from the perfidy of the Communists is that efforts of free nations to take over the territory of other free nations is not the primary threat to peace.

Russia is aiming its proposal in part at Red China which is skirmishing off and on with Russians along borders in Asia. But of course its primary target is the West, the troops of which prevent the Soviet Union from gobbling up the world. And although the Russian message mentioned Taiwan specifically as an area being prevented by foreign troops from returning to its native masters, it is likely that the Kremlin leaders are really more concerned about their Eastern European satellites.

The proposal has three major suggestions, all of them related. Everyone is to promise to renounce force as a means of altering existing borders, all states should acknowledge that no territories should be the object of invasion or attack or military occupation even for some other purpose, and nothing else is to serve as a pretext for violation of "territorial integrity" of another state.

Of course the dangers to the free world of such a nonaggression pact are obvious simply because we would be inclined to carry out our promises and the Communists would not. Such pacts have never been successful for very long throughout all of history since eventually a would-be aggressor finds a way to rationalize a violation. But even such tactics are not necessary to the Communists. The Soviet Union conveniently forgels every treaty it no longer wants to honor. And although few nations have had the stupidity to make any treaties with the Red Chinese, India could testify to what happens when their word is believed.

The real threat to peace in the world is not territorial ambitions, even by the Communists, but the enslavement of human beings. The border guards in Berlin are there to keep the East Germans confined in their country, not to prevent westerners from moving in. This was spotlighted during the Christmas truce when almost a million West Germans visited relatives in East Berlin but one East German youth was shot down when he tried to climb the barbed wire into the West. The Russian note said nothing about the Russian troops in East Germany or Hungary or those Russian weapons in Cuba.

The optimism in some Western capitals over the current thaw in the cold war and the possibilities for a "detente" is on solid ground only when we realize and keep realizing that our strength is our security. But we should do more than merely shrug off the latest Soviet proposal aimed at fooling those who so frantically fear nuclear war that they forget about freedom. The West should make some counterproposals about open borders especially for those inside the Communist prison. We should suggest free elections in all the nations of the world with only United Nations troops to keep the peace and guard the unstuffed ballot boxes.

The Russians are really saying that now that they have a wall around a lot of territory they want everyone to promise not to tear it down. And when they want to move a little closer and build another one they will conveniently forget that they ever promised anything about the renunciation of force. They will once again ride their tanks, as they did into Budapest, proclaiming loudly, "Tanks? What tanks?"

Looking Backward

Move for County Bounty Levy

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Jan. 16, 1864.

The newly elected County Board held its first session Monday. We learn that certain thin-skinned patriots (!) and some other interested parties will make an effort to induce the Board to saddle the County with a tax of about $15,000 for bounties to volunteers in order to escape the draft.

Will the Board also pay similar bounties to all the other prospective draftees?

How much will the County orders be worth after such legislation and how long will it take to bring county finances back to their present standing?

Our County Corporation is not a hospital for the relief of the sick, wounded or unfortunate. It is not a Mutual Relief organization, as we understand it.

Freedman Writes

President Gives Unusual Vote Of Confidence in McCormack

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

Speaker John McCormack starts the new session of Congress with two extraordinary expressions of confidence and support — one from President Johnson, and the other from his colleagues in the House.

On his own initiative, President Johnson wrote into their agreement on "presidential disability" the provision designating that Speaker McCormack should decide — if the President couldn't — when to take over as "Acting President."

President Johnson's deep faith in the 72-year-old Speaker's loyalty and ability to take over should he become incapacitated is clearly spelled out in one of the three principal provisions of his private agreement with McCormack.

This Johnson - McCormack succession arrangement, which is to continue in force until a new Vice President is duly sworn into office, provides:

"(1) In the event of inability the President would — if possible — so inform the Speaker, and the Speaker would serve as Acting President, exercising the powers and duties of the office until the inability had ended.

"(2) In the event of the inability which would prevent the President from so communicating with the Speaker, the Speaker, after such consultations as seem to him appropriate under the circumstances, would decide upon the devolution of the powers and duties of the office and would serve as Acting President until the inability has ended.

"(3) The President, in either event, would determine when the inability had ended and at that time would resume the full exercise of the power and duties of the office."

MAKING IT LEGAL — The legality of President Johnson's decision to designate Speaker McCormack to make his own determination when to take over the presidency — if Johnson is unable to do so — is supported by an opinion from Attorney General Robert Kennedy.

He ruled the President has full authority to name the Speaker, in the absence of a Vice President, as the one to determine his inability — if the President is unable to make his own decision.

While some advisers urged the President to include a provision in the agreement that the Cabinet should be consulted before the Speaker became "Acting President," the President rejected this suggestion.

He expressed confidence that Speaker McCormack would make a proper determination, consulting the officials of his administration that he considered appropriate.

This position was supported by the attorney general, who cited the historical precedent in the arrangement worked out by former President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

SUPPORT IN CONGRESS — Congressional backers plan to support Speaker McCormack by pushing legislation providing that he could become "Acting President" without forfeiting his right to return to the Speakership on the President's recovery.

This legislation is being prepared for introduction at this session by a bipartisan group in the House headed by Representative Michael Feighan, D.O., second-ranking member of the Judiciary Committee.

It calls for the election of the House Majority Leader as "Acting Speaker" during the period the Speaker is "Acting President." At the end of the President's disability, both the Speaker and the House Majority Leader would reassume their previous positions.

Representative Feighan already has been assured of support for the legislation by a majority of the House Judiciary Committee, which considers all bills dealing with Presidential inability and succession.

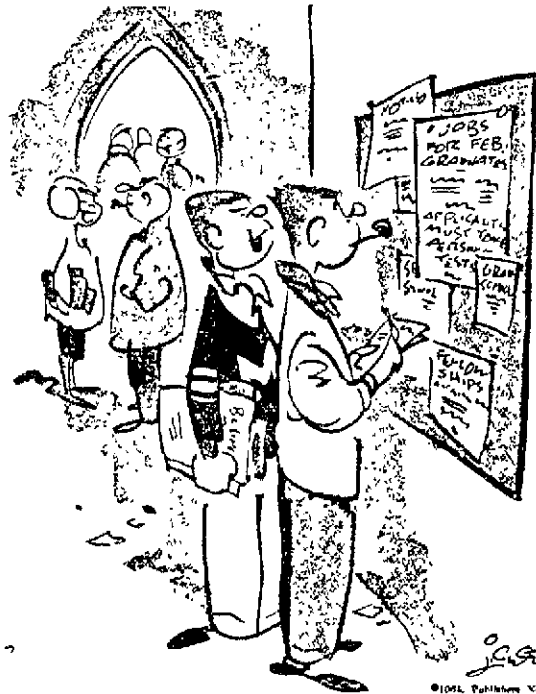

While all these legislators believe that only a constitutional amendment can solve the problem of Presidential inability on a permanent basis, they feel the Feighan bill offers a temporary solution and will blunt the drive to put the Secretary of State ahead of the Speaker in line of succession to the presidency.

The Feighan group will launch a campaign pointing out that the drive to change the line of succession is a direct attack on Congress as well as the Speaker.

CLOAK AND DAGGER — The Central Intelligence Agency is quietly checking to determine whether a West German armament concern in Hamburg which is offering a secret missile for sale to NATO countries is linked to a mysterious German scientist expelled from Switzerland. The ousted scientist is Dr. Hans Ehrhard, who the Swiss say was being financed by an unidentified "foreign power." Swiss officials expelled him after learning he was experimenting with a brilliant light ray. Dr. Ehrhard is now back in West Germany. . . . Members of the special commission probing the assassination of President Kennedy are reading the report of Lord Denning on Britain's sex and spy scandals. They are checking it for "style" and not "content" to help in drafting their own report.

Wisconsin, Breeding Ground of New Ideas, Now Two-Party State

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—One of the reasons why Frank Zeidler, the director of the State Department of Resource Development, continues to draw more attention than most of his co-workers in the administrative hierarchy at the state capitol is that he is one of the last survivors of the splinter party period in Wisconsin political life.

Zeidler is consistently described as a "socialist." It is no longer accurate to begin the word with a Capital letter. There is no longer a "Socialist" party of Wisconsin. It expired a decade ago and there is no sign that it will ever be revived. His own insistence upon using the word to identify himself is not easy to explain. Presumably it is a way of announcing that he is not a Democrat, in spite of his present environment, although for a man who is working for a Democratic administration and who is working to re-elect it to say that he is not a Democrat is to draw a distinction without a difference.

Yet the situation does offer a useful reminder of the evolution of party politics, and perhaps the maturity of the state's political attitudes, during contemporary times. Wisconsin was once one of the most prolific breeding grounds for new parties. Those days have passed, almost surely forever.

THE REASONS FOR THE SAME * The reasons do not relate to any changes in the laws governing Wisconsin election laws continue to be liberal in their conception, in the sense that there are no artificial barriers to the formulation of new parties for places on the election ballot. A couple of thousands of vigorous and like-minded citizens who wanted to provide a new vehicle for political expression today could do so — with reasonably determined effort.

The reasons relate to the changing position of the orthodox parties, and the changing attitudes, of the electorate. Third and fourth and fifth parties have disappeared quite simply because there was no popular response to them. Even the Socialist party which was Mr. Zeidler's love for so long and which numbered some of the most resolute of the idealists who ever worked in Wisconsin politics finally gave up the ghost when it became evident that the younger generation was yawning in vast indifference.

The most successful of the unorthodox parties was the Progressive party of the La Follette, which survived as a separate entity barely more than a decade and which finally expired in 1946 when the late Sen. Robert M. LaFollette Jr. concluded that his best hope for re-election was to get the Republican party nomination. As it happened, his calculation missed by a hair-line. With his defeat, the hope of salvaging the LaFollette movement even as a faction within the Republican party died also.

PERSPECTIVE * Aside from the historical judgments on the value and the achievements of the Progressive party idea, succeeding events have justified the dissolution decision of 1946.

The principal men of the old Progressive party made their accommodations within the old parties, according to individual tastes, geographical circumstances, and their current status — whether they held office or not. Generally the older, more conservative and rural representatives returned comfortably to their Republican origins. Conversely, the younger men, and those in the cities, moved into the Democratic party and transformed what was an impotent husk into a viable, aggressive instrumentality that prospered to such a degree that during the last six years it has been able to wrest the most important offices from the Republicans.

Wisconsin is now a two party state, with a vengeance. More important, the electorate now has the assurance that minorities won't win elections, as they did for so long when the ballots were divided among three or four political viewpoints. Who can say that the conservative and moderate interest, on the one hand, or the liberal purpose, on the other, is less well served now than during the multiple party era of three decades ago?

The Ministry Today Is Frustrating Occupation

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In the religious area of life, everyone knows about the gap between the believers and the non-believers. Everyone knows about the gap between the different faiths and denominations. But the modern gap is perhaps the most significant of all.

And that is the gap between the ministry and the congregation. It is widening every day, in nearly every church and sect. Indeed, ministers of differing faiths often find themselves closer together in thought and feeling than they do to their own congregations.

There has been a vast breakdown in communication between the clergy and the laity. The theological schools and divinity colleges have been turning out men whose general beliefs differ basically from those of their parishioners. The good news they preach, the gospel they adhere to, is not the news that the congregations want to hear, or are prepared to accept.

I was lunching with an Episcopal rector in an Eastern city not long ago, and he confessed that he had all but lost touch with his flock — except in the sphere of social events, charity affairs, and pastoral counseling.

"What I believe about God, man, and the world," he said,

"has no relevance to my congregation. They want a religion that will make them comfortable, that will reassure that their way of life is right, and that will confirm their easy assumptions of superiority. And the ministers of other denominations I have talked to all have the same reaction."

The Christian ministry in this country in the last two decades has become increasingly sophisticated in its grasp of man's nature and the human condition. Except for a few primitive remnants, most of them have been deeply affected by such men as Barth, Tillich, Bultman, Jaspers, Niebuhr, and even by such Catholic and Jewish thinkers as Maritain and Buber. Their religion resides on a deep existential level.

But little, or none, of this has been transmitted to the congregations — which makes preaching almost as frustrated as teaching in our modern society. People attend church for consolation and comfort — but unless they are also made upset, challenged and provoked (as the Old Testament prophets revitalized their religion), then they merely wear their respectability as a cloak for apathy and self-satisfaction.

Our so-called "religious revival" has been therapeutic, not hermeneutic; it is sought for healing, not for explaining and clarifying. This is why our nation was so unprepared for the racial crisis — and why the ministry finds it hard to separate the wolves from the flock.

Johnson Has Pushed Only Popular Ideas

Program Includes
Kennedy Proposals,
Roosevelt Views

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson isn't missing many angles in proposing programs with the broadest popular appeal.

In one form or another his State of the Union message to Congress Wednesday is expected to contain proposals that have something for practically everybody.

The message is going to represent a combination of three presidents' programs: Roosevelt, Kennedy and Johnson.

Roosevelt or Kennedy would have been just about unbeatable, if either was running in the 1964 presidential race. So carrying the banners of his two popular predecessors should be a big help to Johnson.

Kennedy Programs

He has endorsed the big Kennedy programs still stymied in Congress. He will propose some of his own, reflecting views of his idol, Roosevelt.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Democratic leader in the Senate, says Johnson will outline specific proposals attacking poverty and probably will call for increased spending on domestic programs.

Programs for the poor are in the direct Roosevelt tradition. Kennedy offered them, too.

In his State of the Union message last year Kennedy noted that 32 million Americans "still live on the outskirts of poverty."

There were 13 million unemployed when Roosevelt took office in 1933 and he noted that one-third of the nation was ill-fed, ill-clothed, and ill-housed. About 4 million people are still unemployed.

Mansfield indicated Johnson will ask increased spending for unemployment.

For Tax Cut

Johnson is for a tax cut, which should be popular with practically everybody, rich and poor, except budget-balancers.

He is for a civil rights program, which is what Negroes want, although Southern Democrats in Congress are ready to try to block one.

But white people in the South would benefit by other programs in Johnson's kit.

He is for medical care for the aged, meaning those over 65, of whom there are 17 million in the nation, all of voting age.

He is for federal aid to education, a Kennedy program which would exclude Catholic schools.

While this might anger some Catholics it would hardly be unpopular with most parents whose children are in public schools.

Hanging Fire

Still hanging fire in Congress is a Kennedy program of youth training and employment.

While unskilled jobs are dwindling, new jobs are requiring more training and higher skills. About 42 per cent of students drop out before finishing high school.

But, while such programs have a kind of universal appeal because so many different interests would benefit, offering such a broad dose of them at this session of Congress is optimistic, to put it mildly.

Just last Sunday both Mansfield and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader in the Senate, said they didn't expect the record this year to be "quantitative."

Public Relations

That is a public relations way of saying they didn't expect a lot of programs to go through—but they thought some of the big ones might.

They talked of spending perhaps several weeks in the Senate arguing about a tax cut, starting in February, and even more weeks contending with a Southern filibuster on civil rights.

That wouldn't leave much time for much else—like medical care and federal aid to education—in a Congress where most of the members have to stand for re-election this year and want to get home early.

Promotion Game's Gone Hog Wild, Says Our Charlie in a 'Special Daze'

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Every dog has his day—so 'tis said. He does, too. Under the American enthusiasm for special days, weeks and months, cats have a day, also. You might not believe it but eggs have a whole month. Domestic rabbits have a national week; lambs have a whole doggone month. There's a Save the Horse Week. Add to that the fact that there is a Be Kind to Animals Week and a Humane week, and it will be seen that critters have more busy time on our calendar than Abraham Lincoln, mothers, or even Jefferson Davis.

I'm not sure it's all fair. Those who busy themselves with promotional activities, whether for commerce or peace or chickadees, have gone hog wild this year (there's a National Country Ham Month in October), and we now have more special days and weeks and months than there are available.

For example, take one day in March. National Peanut Week commences as does Save Your Vision Week. Save Your City Week, and National Smile Week. In the same week, there are—to cite a few—National Weights and Measures Week. Return the Borrowed Books Week, National 4-H Club week, National Egg Month, National Buttermilk Bread Month, National Advertising Specialty Month, Red Cross Month, Children's Art Month, Spring Clean-up Month, Spring Wildflower Month, National Coffee Month, Fish and Seafood Month and Pickle Way for Lenten Days.

If animals do pretty well, so do children. Beginning with National Baby Week, they get a B'ke Month, an Education Week, a Better Sleep Month, a B'ke Safety Week, a Boy Scout Week, a Boy's Club Week, a Camp Fire Girls Week, a Child Foot Health Month, a Child Health Day, a Child Safety Week.

More, More

Then, there's Children's Book Week, a Children's Dental Health Week, a Future Farmers of America Week, a Gifted Child Week, a Girl Guard Week, a Girl Scout Week, a Girl's Club Week, a Jewish Youth Week.

Not to mention a Kiwanis Kid Day, a National Youth Week, a Popcorn Week, a Retarded Children's Week, a Science Youth Month, a Soapbox Derby Day, a Sunday School Week, a Teenager's Day and, unless I am wrong, National Loudspeaker Week is for them, too.

It may come as a special thrill to you to know that Americans have such dandy events scheduled as a National Lathe and Plaster Week.

The sponsors of the wondrous time is the Contracting Plasterers' and Lathers' International Assn., which specifies that the purpose of the special week is "to promote health and physical safety through use of lath and plaster as fire protective ceilings and wall materials."

A Truthful Man

But National Slacks Week, sponsored by Jules Goldstein of the Trouser Institute of America, seems much more forthright in purpose which is, he bluntly avers, "To promote the sale of slacks."

It may render you happy to know that we will be given the joy of having, among other things, a Kruat and Frankfurt Week (Feb. 1-10) as well as a Pass the Laugh Week (in

Farm Income May Become Campaign Issue

Hike Was Transfer From Treasury to Farmer, Critics State

WASHINGTON (AP) — The farm income claims of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman are expected to become involved in this year's political campaigning.

Freeman said in recent statements that a rise in farm income has, in the past three years, put $2.3 billion of realized net income into farmers' pockets above what they would have received if net income had stayed at the 1960 level — the last year of the Eisenhower administration.

Critics of the administration say this increase is just about equivalent to the increased amount of direct subsidies the Agriculture Department has paid farmers under feed grain and wheat cropland retirement programs.

Thus, critics argue, the only thing done by the new farm programs of the last three years has been a transfer of cash from the Treasury to farmers.

The political campaign may well revolve, insofar as the farm issue is concerned, around the governmental use of farm payments to stabilize farm prices and income.

The Johnson administration has indicated it may recommend legislation that would broaden use of such payments for wheat, dairy products and cotton.

Nomadic Mongols Being Anchored To Farming and Industry by Reds

Herdsmen Organized, Crop Acreages Are Increasing and Urban Living Is Growing

BY HENRY S. BRADSHAW

ULAN BATOR, Outer Mongolia (AP)—An early 10th century Chinese painting of life in Mongolia, hanging in a Ulan Bator museum, shows herds of livestock grazing across the landscape. Off in one corner is a tiny patch of farming.

That is the way it has traditionally been in Outer Mongolia, the remote land of nomadic herdsmen lying between China's Inner Mongolia and the Soviet Siberia. The hearty Mongols ate meat and milk products. Few settled down to grow crops, none to industry.

It is changing now in the Mongolian People's Republic, the name of the modern, Communist-governed version of this 626,000-square mile country of sweeping prairies, mountains and desert. Agriculture is being introduced at the same time livestock herds are growing and industry is developing.

National Seal

The national seal shows a horse and the heads of a cow, a sheep, a goat and a camel. These five are the most important animals.

The number that could be raised has always been limited by pasture available in below-zero winters and the ability of young animals to forage through snow. The barrier is now being broken.

Soviet-built farm machinery is cultivating hay for winter fodder. The Peace Cooperative of 70,000 head of livestock and 5,000 persons has put 1,000 acres under cultivation. Another cooperative named Light Road grew 2,800 tons of hay last summer to feed 1,280 head of livestock.

As crop acreage increases—it has gone up tenfold in two decades—the livestock herds will grow from their present total of some 24 million.

Herdsmen Organized

Most of these belong to cooperatives and state farms, into which virtually all herdsmen are organized, but some are privately owned. Many factory workers in Ulan Bator own livestock cared for by cooperatives.

Possibilities for irrigation are limited. Crop yields have not begun to attain levels known to Western farming. But the increased planting has changed

Mongolia into a minor exporter of grain. The main exports, paying for extensive import requirements of both capital and consumer goods, remain cattle, hides and wool.

Improved quality of these products is a major goal.

A rapidly growing agricultural institute with 1,800 students teaches a five-year course in breeding. Cross-breeding has produced a new sheep. Some 50,000 of the new breed are providing better wool and meat than the 12 million other sheep in Mongolia.

The institute also trains veterinarians.

Although growing about 3 per cent a year, Mongolia's population is only about 1,020,000 and some 40 per cent of these have become city workers.

The Mongolian national drink is fermented mares' milk, called kumis. A mare must be milked frequently. Families living in one isolated camp milk their mares once a day in winter and five times a day in summer.

A meal begins with soup heavily laden with fatty meat and maybe some cabbage and a few bits of potato. It ends with a meat main course.

The favorite is called booz. Mutton spiced with onion or garlic is wrapped into a ball of dough about the size of a small apple and the ball is cooked in steam. Meat with rice or with something like spaghetti is also popular.

A more elaborate meal might

Fulcer Criticizes Committee System

Outagamie Chairman Irked After Lack of Information Complaints

A remark by a county board committee member Monday that his committee was "side-tracked" last month, brought a blast of criticism toward committees in general from County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer.

Fulcer's reply came after Supv. Glenn Pelton (Appleton 12th) reported his committee, the courts and administration committee, was not informed when Sheriff Calvin Spice made a request for additional funds last month after his 1963 budget had been consumed.

Pelton said his committee knew nothing about it and had to read about the sheriff's budget deficiency in the paper.

Shows 'Weakness' Fulcer replied that the fact that the committee knew nothing about it showed "the weakness of the committee structure" in county government.

Fulcer went on to say that this year committees would be more informed on the status of budgets within their jurisdiction. He said the county has gone to an itemized budget in place of a blank check budget.

In other years, departments in the county were given a certain budgetary figure at the beginning of the year. All costs came from the budget.

All Itemized

Under a system now being put into operation by Alvin Woehler, the county business administrator, all items will be itemized.

"In other words," Fulcer explained, "there will be no more using money earmarked for overtime to buy desks. When committees approve a voucher," Fulcer said, "they will now be responsible to know that there is money earmarked for that expense."

Fulcer said the bookkeeping system being placed into effect will give supervisors an up-to-the-minute accounting of funds left for the items to be purchased.

Fulcer said the committees no longer will be allowed to rubber stamp approval for vouchers and hope that there is money in the budget to pay the bill.

Tavern Patron Given Year's Probation on Disorderly Charge

An Appleton man who told patrons of a tavern he knew "something about" the murder of Mrs. Florence Kilsdonk, near Black Creek, Dec. 18, was placed on probation for one year after he pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct Monday.

Joseph J. Berrens, 70, 915 W. Brewster St., appeared Monday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. He was arrested by Outagamie County Sheriff Lt. Jack Frenz and three Appleton detectives at Eddie Mullin's Town Club, 1513 N. Richmond St., who went to the tavern after Berrens had made statements to patrons that he knew something about the Black Creek murderer.

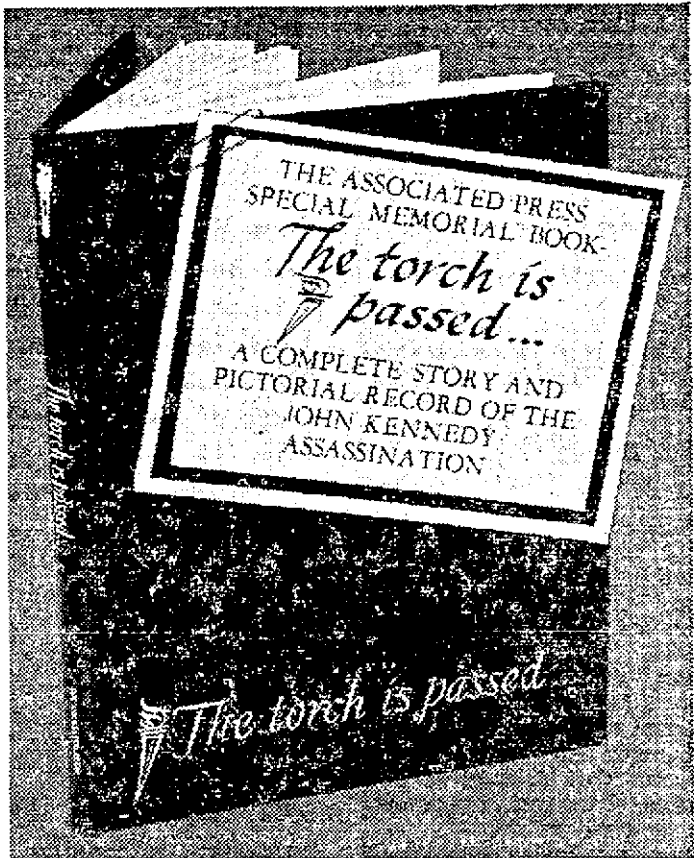

In court Monday, Berrens admitted he knew nothing of the case and had been "just talking."

Eagles Swarming to National Park to Eat

WEST GLACIER, Mont. (AP)—Bald eagles are swarming to Glacier National Park to feast on spawning land-locked salmon.

W. E. Welch, a park ranger, said he counted 352 bald eagles in a five-mile stretch along McDonald Creek and the middle fork of the Flathead River.

The latest official census lists a total of 3,807 bald eagles in the United States exclusive of Alaska.

Party Chiefs Get Details of Johnson Speech

mainly to be seen whether Johnson can trim enough out of military outlays to finance such programs without breaking through the President's self-imposed limitation on expenditures.

"I have told the President that if he comes up with a Texas-size budget, he is going to be in trouble in Congress," Dirksen said. "On the other hand, if he cuts military expenditures to the point where Congress thinks national security is threatened, some of this money may be restored."

The second session of the 88th Congress got under way at noon today.

The House had before it a Senate-passed bill to rename the national cultural center in honor of the late John F. Kennedy and provide some federal financing for it. The Senate had no major business scheduled.

Must Help Unskilled
In his personally delivered message Wednesday, Johnson is expected to expand on a theme he has been preaching for years—that the nation cannot afford to "surrender to poverty" just to "serve the ends of political bookkeeping."

A former school teacher, Johnson has laid heavy stress on education for the unskilled and those with skills outdated by automation who are, he said, thus "confined in an airtight case of poverty."

Johnson has given every sign that he will back to the hilt proposals Kennedy made for an $11 billion tax cut, enactment of a civil rights legislative program and for action on health care for the elderly financed through Social Security taxes.

Ribicoff Denies He Is a Candidate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, often mentioned in speculation about the Democratic vice presidential nominee, says he's not a candidate.

Ribicoff, 53, was secretary of welfare in President Kennedy's Cabinet. He was in Los Angeles to make a speech.

Community Theaters Plan More Musicals

St. Norbert Music Department First
With 'Bye Bye Birdie' Jan. 17 Through 20

BY JINGO
It appears as if the musical-comedy era in our community theaters will continue—at least through this summer. Two musicals are definitely set and there are very strong rumors of at least one more.

The most imminent production, of course, is St. Norbert College's "Bye, Bye Birdie" set for a week from next Friday, Jan. 17 through Monday, Jan. 20. With the sure directorial hand of Dudley Birder at the tiller and a history of successes the DePere college is looking forward to another sell-out run.

The vehicle certainly must be well known by now. Fond du Lac, among many other community theaters, had a big success with the show recently and Ann-Margret helped create a smash film hit of the fun.

For those who have missed the story-line, it is about an Elvis Presley-type character on a personal appearance kick and it is rife with high teen-age spirits and hi-jinks.

Far from the happy noise and rockin' rhythms of "Bye, Bye Birdie" is the Oshkosh Junior Theatre's choice for its 1964 production. The resourceful teen-agers in Oshkosh are going to tackle the beautifully lyrical

Play on Old Age Opens On Broadway

BY WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic
NEW YORK (AP)—"Why can't someone write a real play about the disaster and fascination of being old?"

With this question, the fascinating and chic Margaret Leighton gets the main action rolling in "The Chinese Prime Minister" which entered the Broadway lineup at the Royale theater.

The query is an inside jest, tossed at herself by Enid Bagnold, 75-year-old author of this elegantly devised comedy about senior citizenship.

Quicksilver Dialogue
The charade takes place in one of those posh British drawing rooms so dear to Wilde and Shaw, and the influence of those past quip masters is evident in the quicksilver dialogue.

As a vintage star who has just retired from the stage, Miss Leighton moves brilliantly through a plot of elusive complication. Some events bear only remotely on the theme but give the cast bravura opportunity.

Miss Leighton is accompanied on autumnal pilgrimage by two co-stars: Alan Webb, a crotchety retainer, and John Williams, a long-absent spouse who returns to provide the audience with an example of late-life virility.

Title Symbolic
The title, incidentally, is a bit of symbolism for twilight serenity.

Director Joseph Anthony paces the performance in a flawless manner that will have much to do with determining just how popular the off-beat substance will prove with audiences.

The Oliver Smith setting and the Valentina costuming are additional assets.

"The Chinese Prime Minister" totals up as a mannered, diverting theatrical curio, less than profound.

names are being brailled about with "Gypsy" indicated as the director's choice.

Cooler heads prevailed last summer, but maybe Jones may get his way this summer—and that would be something.

The non-music kick of rock 'n' roll seems to be waning on the young-fry front, but what seems to be replacing may be less noisy but no less frightening.

It started with the advent of "Outer Limits" on TV and has been fostered by a push in the sale of "Monster" magazines and plastic model kits. Now it's going to get another push.

The requests for pictures of the monsters on "The Outer Limits" has been so heavy that ABC is about to start a campaign—they'll distribute "autographed" monster pictures as a promotion gimmick.

The next step seems logical—personal appearance tours!

When Ann-Margaret snapped her hips and fingers on the Oscar show a year or so ago a star was discovered—happily. Now comes another "newcomer" to the star ranks because of a surprising performance.

Hans Conried did such a thorough job of stealing the Hollywood Deb Star Ball show with his acid lobby interviews that his agent is checking the possibilities of building some kind of series around Hans' ability to conduct funny interviews.

"Brigadoon" this coming summer.

Although nothing can be considered certain until Don Jones, Attic Theatre managing director, arrives on the scene, the word is out strong and clear that the intimate revue "Fantasticks" is the odds-on favorite for Attic production this summer.

There also are indications that Attic will try one other musical during its season. Many show

Edgar Buchanan Left Dentistry for Acting

Star of 'Petticoat Junction' Master
At Humorous Small Town Characters

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dentistry's gift to acting, Edgar Buchanan, appears to have found a steady job.

"I don't count on anything until it happens," says Buchanan. "But it looks pretty good."

He needn't be so cautious in talking about "Petticoat Junction," the television series in which he is a star. It has scored higher in the ratings than any other new show this season and appears a cinch to continue running.

"If it happens, that's okay with me," Buchanan said. "This series has cured my ulcer. I don't have to worry about where my next job is coming from—not for a while, anyway."

The Buchanan saga is part of Hollywood legend—how he took a drama course at the University of Oregon because he needed to raise his grade average, how he got the acting bug and wanted to quit his medical studies, how his father, a doctor, urged him to study dentistry so he would have a profession to fall back on.

Buchanan practiced dentistry for 10 years, then came to the Pasadena Playhouse and was discovered by the movies.

In Many Series
Buchanan acted in 15 or more television series during the year, and he figures he's taking a loss by sticking with "Petticoat Junction." But it's steady, and he's getting more public recognition, and he'll be able to pick up some of that lush personal appearance money available to television stars.

"Petticoat Junction" could scarcely have been made without Buchanan, trafficking as it does in small-town humor. He has played more village rogues and grizzled deputies than he can remember.

Combat Men Get Stuck In Pillbox

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11)—Combat has an exceptionally exciting story of a five man battle for survival. Hanley (Rick Jason), a wounded GI (Warren Oates) and three Germans, led by Albert Paulsen, are trapped in a German pillbox. This focuses on man's instinct for survival and feelings of humanity.

9-10 (Channel 4-5)—Anybody who has ever taken an extended train trip will love Orient Express, a light-hearted, Edwin Newman - conducted trip from Paris to Istanbul on the famed train which is like the old gray mare—not what it used to be. Basically, this is one man's reactions to a three-day, three-night trip, so historical information is at a minimum. (Color)

6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5)—If you can accept the fact that an overly-possessive father hysterically brings charges that Mr. Novak is teaching pornography in his class when a young girl recites "The Song of Songs," then you may enjoy this episode.

7:30-8 (Channel 4-5)—Redigo has fallen by the wayside, to be replaced by a nighttime version of You Don't Say, a quiz in which people try to be clever with the English language. Tom Kennedy is the host. (Color)

7:30-8 (Channel 11)—McHale's Navy used a tried and true formula for hilarity. Parker (Tim Conway) is writing a war novel, one chapter of which is devoted to his heroic sinking of the Yakamura.

8-9 (Channel 4-5)—There's some genuine suspense in "The Mafia Man" on The Richard Boone Show, a drama written by the late Clifford Odets. Boone, a big-time gangster, is trying to stay alive to see his son (who has left West Point), and incidentally, testify for the government.

8-9 (Channel 11)—The Greatest Show on Earth isn't tonight. Low-wire walker Dorothy Malone is not the fine performer she once was before an accident. But Jack Palance is too soft-hearted to fire her. (Color)

8:30-9 (Channel 2)—George Burns is very funny on The Jack Benny Program, which is corny on purpose.

9-10 (Channel 11)—Fans of The Fugitive will like this taut show in which David Janssen risks his freedom to go home and find out why his father (Robert Keith) has given his prized medical books to a university, and why his brother (Andrew Prine) a once-sensible has taken to racing cars with reckless speed.
